

CHAMBERLAIN HOPES FOR PEACE

Europe On Edge As War Clouds Gather

LONG BATTLE IN PROSPECT

BY WEBB MILLER

LONDON, Sept. 27.—(UP)—As the diplomatic situation stood today Europe was some 96 hours from a general war involving between 350,000,000 and 400,000,000 people.

Statesmen still clung to hope that a last minute development would save peace, but the outlook darkened every hour.

If war comes, neutral military experts with whom I talked today believe that it might last three or four years.

It probably would be the most frightful war in history. It would be fought, in its initial stages, largely by airplanes with rich, ancient cities the targets and men, women and children, without distinction, the victims.

Ready to March

At this moment about 5,000,000 men were ready to march. Backing them up were about 10,000,000 trained reserves.

It was estimated that between 20,000 and 30,000 airplanes would be in the field a short time after the outbreak.

As things stood now, it appeared that Germany and Italy on one side, with about 115,000,000 people, and Czechoslovakia, France, Russia, and Great Britain on the other, with about 263,000,000 would be involved within a few weeks.

It was the opinion of military men that in the early phases of such a war France would remain behind her Maginot line fortifications while Great Britain blockaded Germany in the Atlantic ocean and the Baltic Sea.

Plans Revealed

Britain and France would be expected to await action by Premier Benito Mussolini. If he joined Hitler, France would be expected to try to smash the Italian army with the object of knocking it out of the war, opening the way across Northern Italy to attack Germany through its back door, the southern Austrian frontier.

The British navy presumably would aid the French navy to blockade Italy, at the Straits of Gibraltar and the Suez Canal.

Warfare on the western front would be largely confined to the air, the experts forecast.

Admittedly if the French tried to smash through the mountainous regions of Northern Italy, they would have a most difficult task, but it has been done.

Dodge Test

It was believed that the Germans would go underground in their Siegfried line forts, on the French frontier, and thus for some months military men would expect a some-

First British Troops Report As Europe Prepares For War

With the warning that "war will result if Germany attacks Czechoslovakia" and Hitler's strong speech ringing in their ears, the first British recruits report for duty at Stoughton Barracks, Guilford, Eng. WORLD'S LARGEST LINER IS LAUNCHED

CLYDEBANK, Scotland, Sept. 27.—(UP)—The world's largest ship, the sister ship of the "Queen Mary," was launched today.

Queen Elizabeth broke the bottle on her prow to name the ship in her honor and send the 85,000 tons of steel rumbling down the ways into the River Clyde.

The "Queen Mary" now disputes with the French liner Normandie for the honor of being the world's largest ship. When the "Queen Elizabeth" enters the New York-West European trade in May, 1940, she will end the argument for she is 3,765 tons heavier, 55 feet longer and 51.5 feet deeper than the "Queen Mary." The two cost approximately $25,000,000 each.

Many Differences

Queen Elizabeth was to have launched the ship in the presence of King George, but the king could not leave London where his presence may be required to sign mobilization papers in event of a European war.

The "Queen Elizabeth" will be strikingly different from the "Queen Mary." She has but two funnels, instead of three, and is so streamlined that she resembles the German liner Bremen more than her sister ship. She will have 14 decks, two more than the "Queen Mary." She will accommodate 2,410 passengers in three classes, 300 more. Her builders hope she will even be faster. She will have four propellers driven by four turbines.

Kaiser Anxious In War Crisis

DOORN, Holland, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Former Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany is anxiously following every move in the European situation and prays that the world will not again be involved in a major war, his companions in exile reported today.

Wilhelm, now nearly 80, never listens to the news broadcasts from Germany or Czechoslovakia, but couriers report each new development to him personally.

His wife, the former Princess Hermine, is no less concerned than her husband over the prospect of a second world war, for she has two sons who could be called to the front.

Rains Slow Up Spanish War

HENDAYE, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Heavy rains along the Ebro restored comparative calm to the Spanish civil war front, with only an occasional artillery duel to mark the front.

Barcelona reported that 10 trimotored planes dropped 100 heavy bombs on the city of Mahon, on the Loyalist held island of Minorca Sept. 23, causing heavy destruction and casualties.

TWO-IN-ONE

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Sept. 27.—(UP)—The deer season was over for Mrs. Letty Ethbridge over a pull of the trigger. She brought down a buck with a well-placed shot which carried into the body of a second animal she had not seen, and had her bag limit for the year, reported.

SRA PLACES BAN ON USE OF RELIEF FUNDS IN LABOR ROWS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 27.—(UP)—The State Relief Administration today stood definitely committed against the use of its funds to aid labor disputes, through aid to strikers if employment is open to them.

Administrator Harold E. Pomeroy cited the policy in a reference to the San Francisco department store employees' strike.

"Vicious Pressure" In the face of what he described as "vigorous and vicious pressure for relief in this strike" Pomeroy said state relief funds could not be used for this or similar instances.

The administration takes the view the stores are operating and therefore opportunity for work is available, Pomeroy said.

Under present relief administration rules, an applicant for relief who is on strike is referred to his last employer. If he refuses to confer with his former employer, the applicant is denied relief. If he does confer and is told there is no work he then is considered for relief.

Pomeroy asserted most of the pressure has come from the Com-

Three Burned In $25,000 Blaze

GLOBE, Ariz., Sept. 27.—(UP)—A spectacular fire which destroyed a huge diesel tank truck, a service station and 5000 gallons of gasoline here today sent three El Paso, Tex., men to the hospital with critical burns.

Ramon Flores, 37, laborer; Alfred Garza, 28, electrician, and Hyacintho Jaso, 25, laborer, suffered first and second degree burns when they attempted to extinguish the flames which blanketed the loaded gasoline truck.

J. I. McNutt, manager of the service station, said the fire started while the gasoline was being unloaded from the truck to storage tanks. He said a spark from the electrical pump might have caused the blaze.

Damage was estimated at $25,000.

Youth Sentenced For Slaying

PLACERVILLE, Calif., Sept. 27.—(UP)—Frederick William Brower, 17, of Nogales, Ariz., today was under sentence of from five years to life in San Quentin prison on charges of second degree murder in the death of Frank Ernest, American river miner.

Brower pleaded guilty in superior court yesterday, waived trial and was sentenced. He was apprehended a month ago in Tucson on a burglary charge and was indicted here last Friday for the slaying of Ernest on June 29.

LET 10,000,000 CONTRACT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—(UP)—A contract has been signed for construction of a $10,000,000 high voltage electric transmission line between Boulder Dam and Los Angeles, it was announced today.

QUAKE ROCKS SALINAS

SALINAS, Calif., Sept. 27.—(UP)—A sharp earth tremor was felt in Salinas and surrounding area at 4:25 a. m. today. No damage was reported.

Cause of Plane Crash Mystery

BURBANK, Sept. 27.—(UP)—A coroner's jury left unsettled today the cause of the plane crash that killed Major General Oscar Westover, chief of the army air corps and his aide last Wednesday.

The jury said only that Westover and Sgt. Samuel Hynes came to their deaths accidentally, and that the general was piloting the fast Vultee Chasner at the time of the crash.

Harry Downs, veteran flier of the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. who witnessed the crash, testified that the ship went into a "double stall" because of violating two rules of flying. He said Westover apparently banked too slowly and then attempted to recover too quickly from a stall.

War May Cancel PWA Projects

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Public Works Administration officials admitted the possibility today that allotments to communities might cease so that $150,000,000 of recovery-construction money may be diverted to national defense.

They said that such action was possible in event of a European war, but that the matter has not been discussed officially.

If the administration should embark on a defense program such as preceded the World war, they said, President Roosevelt could instruct PWA Administrator Ickes to withhold funds until Congress releases the money.

REJECT CIO

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 27.—(UP)—By a vote of 666 to 232, employees of the Utah C-coper company mills at Magna and Garfield yesterday rejected a bargaining representative the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, a Committee for Industrial Organization affiliate.

Ballots on which the workers voted did not contain provision for another choice.

SEEK VICTIMS OF HATCHET MURDERER

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 17.—(UP)—Sheriff Will Wood will accompany Clifford Wheeler, 32 year old negro, today to the spot where the body of the second woman victim of a crazed roadside tavern operator was known to have been buried.

Wheeler told the sheriff he helped Joe Ball, 46, dig a shallow grave and place the dismembered parts of Minnie Gerhardt's body in it more than a year ago. Sunday Wheeler took officers to the grave of Ball's first known victim, Mary Brown.

Seek Six Victims Authorities were certain that Ball, who killed himself Saturday after he was questioned about the disappearances of several women, had killed others, perhaps as many as six. At least four young women who worked as hostesses in his roadside tavern near Elmhurst, Tex., disappeared without indicating to other employees that they planned to leave.

Nell Ball, Ball's second wife, also was missing. Authorities said she might also have been a victim of the hatchet he used to kill his victims before dismembering their bodies with a saw.

Discover Grave Wheeler said Gerhardt's body was buried near Ingleside, a small town south of here. The body of Miss Brown, missing since last Tuesday night, was found in a grave on the San Antonio river.

It was established that Ball had numerous love affairs with women he hired. It was believed he killed them either because they threatened to expose his affairs or because he grew tired and wanted to get rid of them.

BASEBALL RESULTS

DETROIT, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Hank Greenberg of the Detroit Tigers clouted a home run, 57 and 58 today and moved to within two of equalling Babe Ruth's all-time record of 60.

Greenberg hit the first of Bill Cox in the first inning of the game against the St. Louis Browns and belted another off Cox in the third inning.

Call Bids On Repair Work

Opening of bids on the county's big program of rebuilding 20 miles of ruined levees on the Santa Ana river, project for which $500,000 has been set aside, today was scheduled for October 11 by the county supervisors.

A resolution by Supervisor Harry D. Riley, of Anaheim, approving and adopting plans and specifications for the levee project was submitted by Flood Engineer M. N. Thompson, was passed by the board. It carried instructions to County Clerk Basil J. Smith to advertise for bids, to be opened on the October date. It was explained that legal requirements of advertising would prevent setting an

SANCTIONS AGAINST JAPANESE APPROVED

GENEVA, Sept. 27.—(UP)—The council of the League of Nations at a secret session today agreed to authorize members individually to apply economic and financial sanctions against Japan.

The council ruled that article 16 of the covenant, which provides for severance of trade or financial relations with an aggressor nation, was now in force against Japan.

It was agreed, however, that for temporary reasons it was impossible for league members to take "coordinated action," but that each member was entitled to apply sanctions if they desired.

Asked By China

Application of sanctions was requested by China on the ground that Japan had resorted to war in disregard of the covenant of the league. Japan has resigned from the league, but article 16 provides that sanctions may be applied whether an "aggressor" is a member or not.

A member of the council told the United Press:

"The decision means that Russia can now take any action she wants against Japan and such action will be legal, as it will be with the authorization of the league."

"If Russia takes military action against Japan, they will be acting under the covenant. Of course other countries, too, can take such action as prohibiting credits and embargoing war material for Japan."

Crash Fatal To Racing Driver

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 27.—(UP)—Frank Beeder, 27 year old St. Louis automobile racing driver, died in Allentown hospital today from injuries suffered in a crash at the Allentown fair track Saturday.

He was the second driver to die as a result of accidents Saturday. Roy Lake of Burbank, Calif., was killed when his car crashed into a concrete abutment.

Beeder was hurt the first time when his car locked with that driven by Jimmy Miller of Los Angeles on a turn and crashed into a group of trees. The St. Louis driver suffered fractures of both legs and internal injuries.

Californians Killed In Crash

PRESCOTT, Ariz., Sept. 27.—Three Californians were killed and three others injured seriously in a collision of two automobiles 19 miles south of here last night.

Steve A. D. Jackson, 75, Walnut Grove, Mrs. Lillian Inez Moore, 74, and Mrs. Ernest Smith, 45, both of Compton, Calif., were fatally injured in the crash when Jackson veered his car to the wrong side of the road and struck the other vehicle.

Injured were Mrs. Everett Smith, 45, Roy England, and William H. Mouser Jr., all of Compton.

Investigators said Jackson apparently had trouble with his motor and attempted to fix it while his car was still in motion.

Savant Says War Inevitable

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 27.—(UP)—Dr. Charles M. Sheldon, author of "In His Steps" and internationally known peace advocate, said today he believed "war was inevitable."

Sheldon praised President Roosevelt for his effort to maintain peace, but suggested that the American people should let the President know that they are unalterably opposed to any steps that would get the United States entangled in a European conflict.

ASSERTS DEMANDS BY HITLER UNREASONABLE

LONDON, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the nation tonight that he has not given up hope of avoiding war over Czechoslovakia and would not hesitate to pay a third visit to Germany if necessary.

Chamberlain declared he considers Hitler's demand for immediate return of Sudetenland "unreasonable" but tempered it by declaring as his closing words:

Works for Peace
"You know that I am going to work for peace until the last minute."

However, he gave a stern warning that the British Empire was ready to fight any power that sought to dominate the world by force.

Great Britain cannot "undertake to involve the whole British Empire," Chamberlain said, just because of the Czechs—"however much we may sympathize with a small nation."

"If we are to fight, it must be on larger issues than that," he added in reference to the crisis over surrender of Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland to Germany.

Resist Force
"I am a man of peace to the depths of my soul," he said. "Armed conflict is a nightmare to us, but if I were convinced that any nation had made up its mind to dominate the world by fear of its force, I should feel that it must be resisted."

"Under such a domination, the lives of people who believe in liberty would not be worth living."

Chamberlain spoke with great emotion. At times he almost choked and paused to regain his composure.

From the cabinet room at No. 10 Downing street, his words went out over the world to all parts of the empire.

He reassured his countrymen that the extraordinary defense measures being taken under the king's proclamation of a state of emergency are only "precautionary measures."

"They do not mean that we have determined on war or that war is imminent," he said.

Already Settled
"It seems impossible that a quarrel already settled in principle should be the subject of war," the prime minister declared.

He said the government could not undertake to involve the whole British Empire in war just on account of the Czechs—"However much we may sympathize with a small nation—but only if greater issues definitely were at stake."

Immediately after Chamberlain had finished, the British broadcasting company broadcast German translations of President's Roosevelt's peace plea to Hitler and of

LATE BULLETINS

PARIS, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Premier Edouard Daladier tonight declared that the "fight for peace is not ended." French officials praised the radio broadcast of British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain as keeping the door open for further negotiation.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Authorities began evacuating school children from London today. First to go were pupils of schools for the physically defective, who might be unable to stand the strain of marching to railroad stations.

ROME, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini told a council of the generals of Italy's 16 army corps today that war is now inevitable and Italy will fight with Germany, it was revealed by an unimpeachable source.

Mussolini, it was declared, has abandoned all hope that European peace can be saved and expects to come to a head within two or three days at the maximum.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—(UP)—The Czechoslovak consulate general was advised by the government at Prague today that a radio reply by President Eduard Benes to Adolf Hitler's speech had been cancelled.

Hitler's Demands Are Denounced By Czechs

PRAGUE, Sept. 27.—(UP)—The government of Premier Gen. Jan Syrový denounced today the demands of Nazi Fuehrer Adolf Hitler as a request that Czechoslovakia "perform a self-vivisection."

"We feel we, as any other nation, have a right to live and a right to live independently," a government radio broadcast said.

"Hitler's last demands are so far reaching that, if fulfilled, they would destroy the most vital interests of the nation and its hope for further independent existence."

Still Seek Peace
"We are asked to perform a self-vivisection."

At the same time, the Prague official broadcast said that Czechoslovakia still was ready to settle the crisis peacefully on the basis of the British-French plan for session of the Sudetenland and urged that Germany, too, use only peaceful methods.

The official broadcast added: "In his last demands, the German Chancellor wants us to do what we have never done before—hand over immediately territory inhabited by 3,750,000 persons, including 800,000 Czechs."

"After that, he wants us to hold a plebiscite under the shadow of his guns in another territory inhabited by 1,000,000 persons of which only 110,000 are Germans."

Slight Relief
They found some relief in Chancellor Adolf Hitler's latest ultimatum, giving them until Saturday to cede the Sudeten area to Germany. When they stood in the streets yesterday listening to the radio broadcasts of Hitler's speech, they had shouted:

"So we have until Saturday to live!"

Before then, they had not known at what moment German shells and bombs might crash down upon them, and they had lived day and night for a week, keyed to the highest tension.

FUEHRER REFUSES TO ACCEPT RESPONSIBILITY FOR CRISIS

BERLIN, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Adolf Hitler has replied to President Roosevelt's peace appeal with the statement that he appreciates the President's generous intentions, it was announced today.

Hitler said that he must de-

BOARD SET TO SHOW CREDITS

Any worker who wants to know the amount of his 1937 wage credits, on which his old-age insurance will be based, may find out by asking the social security board to send him a statement, according to an announcement by the board today.

For the convenience of those who want such a statement, the board has provided, at all field offices, postcards with the request for information printed on the card. All the worker needs to do is to write in his name, address, account number, and date of birth for identification purposes, then sign the card. He can mail the card either in a sealed envelope addressed to the social security board, Candler building, Baltimore, Maryland, where the records are kept, or he can put a 1-cent stamp on the card itself and drop it in the mail box.

Request by Letter
"The worker can make the request by letter if he does not have one of the postcards," said Victor C. Broome, manager of the Long Beach office of the social security board, "but he should be sure to give the information required to identify him. Letters, however, cannot be handled as rapidly as the cards, which can be had for the asking at the Long Beach office located at 320 Pine avenue. Union officers may obtain them for the use of their members if they wish."

Broome explained that in furnishing the worker a statement of his old-age insurance account the board uses the card he sends in, writing the amount in the space which has been left on the card for the purpose. The card is then returned in a sealed envelope. The statement represents the total amount of wages reported for the worker by his employer (or employers) for the year 1937.

"Lefty" Gomez pays Lou Gehrig a compliment by stating: "He has a better constitution than the United States."

PLEADS GUILTY IN 'CHISELING' CASE

Accused of giving a false statement to officials to obtain state relief administration funds for his and his family's support, Mike Mercado, 27, 1308 West Third, was arrested last evening by Deputy Sheriff John Gilmore and booked at county jail. Today he pleaded guilty, Judge K. E. Morrison, in Santa Ana justice court where Mercado appeared, set pronouncing judgment for next Monday at 9:30 a. m. and released him on his own recognizance.

The state alleges the family collected about $275 of relief funds illegally. The Mercados were cut from the relief roll on September 2, after an investigation.

Tustin Group To Aid Jackson Drive

A meeting called by D. L. Thomas of Tustin to organize a Jackson-for-sheriff club in the Tustin district will be held at 7:30 p. m. today in the Tustin Woman's clubhouse, it was announced.

At a previous meeting, attended by 60, a Jackson-for-sheriff club was organized here and headquarters established at 422 North Sycamore, former location of Beisel's Luggage shop. W. P. Fuller, secretary of the county-wide club, stated. At that time, Ralph Hull, president of the county-wide club; Frank Crooke, Fullerton; Ray France, La Habra; E. H. Peterkin, Brea, and the sheriff spoke, outlining campaign plans. George Kellogg, Yorba Linda, was unanimously elected manager of the county-wide campaign.

WORKERS' ENTHUSIASM MARKS MEETING OF CHEST BATTALION

Enthusiasm self-engendered by 65 members of charity and welfare boards of directors at a joint meeting at Chest headquarters last night, should go far toward making the annual Chest campaign a success, according to Orlyn N. Robertson, general chairman of the fund raising effort.

The meeting was called by D. G. Tidball, who served as general chairman of the last two community chest campaigns, and was attended by a large representation of all the organizations who obtain their maintenance funds from the community chest.

Joint Agencies' Effort
"We pledge to the general chairman and the campaign organization, our active and whole hearted efforts in this campaign," Tidball said. "After all, the community chest is simply the joint effort of our eight agencies to solve their financial problems in an efficient and economical manner. Interest in any one of the agencies carries with it a responsibility for helping make the chest campaign successful."

The starting date of the campaign has been set for Wednesday, October 5th, when workers in all divisions of the organization will meet at a "Kick Off" dinner at 6:30 p. m. at campaign headquarters, 215 E. 4th St.

Work Opens Immediately
Work will start immediately following this meeting, and reports of progress will be taken at luncheon meetings to be held daily from October 10th to 14th. Campaign leaders and workers have expressed themselves as determined to complete the job and raise the full quota before the official closing date on October 14.

Workers in the campaign will pay for their own dinners and lunches at all organization meetings, it was explained by Chairman Robertson, and every person seeking subscriptions will be a volunteer worker serving entirely without pay.

The campaign goal of $33,830 is for the financial support of Santa Ana's eight charity and welfare organizations during the coming year, and in the opinion of the budget committee represents the very minimum amounts upon which these organizations can function effectively during the coming 12 months.

MAN GOES TO JAIL TO PAY $150 FINE

Cecil Smith Jr., 409 East First, Santa Ana, went to county jail yesterday for a 75-day term in lieu of providing $150 assessed by City Judge J. G. Mitchell as a fine for drunk driving after an accident. Tony Ybarra, Route 2, Santa Ana, was fined $10, Ralph Bright, Santa Ana, $8, for speeding. Fred Chavez, Anaheim, arrested yesterday by Officer Tom Kinney on a bench warrant, was fined $11 for speeding and failure to appear in court and $15 for intoxication. He chose serving a total of 13 days in county jail. Pedro Jimenez, Santa Ana, also arrested by Kinney on a bench warrant, was ordered to pay a fine of $15 for being drunk and failing to appear in court. He agreed to work out the fine.

Alone, Hungry, Boys Gets Aid

Found alone and hungry at an East Fourth street cafe where Constable Charles Mitchell of Santa Ana had him in custody, a 15-year-old blond boy from Santaquin, Utah, was taken to police headquarters by Officers A. F. Moulton and Cornish Roehm at 8:30 p. m. yesterday. "It wouldn't do any good to contact my parents and have them come for me," the boy said, "because they haven't enough money to live on as it is." He added that a railroad brakeman had voluntarily sent a telegram to his parents, stating "all is well." The boy was cared for last night by Salvation Army officials. Juvenile authorities will aid him today.

KANSANS TO PICNIC

Former residents of Osborne county, Kansas, will hold a picnic at Irvine Park at 12:30 p. m., Sunday, it was announced today by the committee in charge of arrangements. A basket picnic will be the highlight of the affair.

JOHNSON DRIVE IS AUGMENTED

Rapid extension of the precinct organization backing Mayor C. T. Johnson of San Bernardino, Republican candidate for congress from the 19th district, was decided upon at Riverside last night by the party's committee of nine. The campaign will seek to capitalize upon the lead the candidate gained in the primaries in the race against the incumbent.

The problem will be carried out under direction of the committee of nine, which arranged the "grass-roots" convention at which Johnson was nominated last April.

The candidate last night brought optimistic reports from most parts of the district. He is holding meetings at all parts of the district, he said.

Riverside county already has made plans for meetings of the delegates who attended the April convention. These persons are to form the nucleus for the Johnson campaign. Orange and San Bernardino counties are to take up this work immediately.

In furtherance of the Johnson campaign a district rally will be held at the Riverside municipal auditorium the evening of October 6, John Gabbert of Riverside announced. Besides the candidate, speakers will be Philip Bancroft, Republican candidate for United States senator, and Dr. Walter Franklin, candidate for Lieutenant governor.

The meeting last night brought the campaign's publicity and advertising, and its finances into harmony, with committees named to handle these phases of the work. The next meeting of the group will be at Daniger's cafe, Santa Ana, at 7:30 p. m. October 10.

Tale of Shirt Ends When Tail Of Shirt Gives

This is the tale of a shirt, in fact, two shirts. Earl C. Washam, garage employee at 429 West Third, reported a burglar entered the men's clothes room at the garage yesterday afternoon and when Washam went to investigate, the man left quickly.

Discovering two shirts and a pearl-handled knife missing from the room, Washam set out after the burglar. The burglar ran toward Third and Sycamore streets, the rear of the burglar's shirt came out and waved in the breeze he made as he ran. The two stolen shirts fell out and onto the sidewalk. Washam retrieved the shirts and continued the chase.

Near Third and Sycamore, the burglar escaped in a crowd. Officers Charles Neer and Daniel Jones were unable to find the burglar whose total loot was a $1 knife.

City Considers New Zone Plea

Application of Alta E. Marshall for permission to change the zone at the northeast corner of McFadden and Cypress to permit construction of duplexes, was referred by city council last night to the planning commission for investigation and recommendation.

Husband Pledges Family Support

Bluterio Araujo, Santa Ana, charged with failure to support his family, appeared before Justice Kenneth Morrison today to furnish a bond guarantee that he would pay $20 per month for the next two years in support of the family, to the probation department.

The bond, provided by Araujo's relatives, was approved by the court. Araujo recently pleaded guilty to the non-support charge and was given time to get the bond. Today, a one-year county jail term was suspended for two years and Araujo ordered to remain during the two years in the seven southern counties.

Judge To Speak At Dahlia Show

Municipal Judge LeRoy Dawson of Los Angeles, will be the speaker and judge at the Kiwanis club Dahlia show tomorrow at the Masonic Temple starting with the regular meeting of the organization at 12:15 p. m.

The Dahlia show will be open to the public at 1:30 p. m. and will continue through the rest of the day and evening.

WILL DISCUSS FRANCHISE

The town meeting this evening will see discussion of the new Edison franchise under the leadership of a member of the city council. Paul Voley will preside. The program begins at 7:45, with a quarter hour of musical prelude, at the Unitarian church, Eighth and Bush streets.

Fashion Pageant Set For Oct. 8-9

The annual fall and winter fashion pageant scheduled to take place at the Lake Norcorian Hotel and Spa on the week end of October 8th and 9th will prove to be more than just the run-of-the-mill type of fashion show, it was announced today by Rex E. Clark, owner of the exclusive spa.

At the preview showing of the original creations by Hollywood's leading designers a "Miss Dame Fashion" will be chosen from among the models displaying the gowns and furs entered in the pageant. The selecting will be done by Marie Fontaine, model and charm teacher, Marie Miller, internationally known fashion stylist, George of Hollywood, designer and Theodore Yado, commercial artist.

CHAPMAN'S Famous Ice Creams

"BEST BY TEST FOR 18 YEARS"

This new Garden Store is most unusual—There is nothing in Santa Ana or vicinity as unique—Your visit to this store will be a most pleasant surprise.

Chapman's Famous Ice Creams need little introduction to the good people of Santa Ana and vicinity, Chapman's Ice Creams are 100% Pure—therefore they do not contain egg powders, milk powders, condensed milk, skim milk, improvers or synthetic flavors . . . and Chapman's Ice Creams are not blown up with air—therefore they are not light or fluffy—Chapman's Famous Ice Creams are made in the old-fashioned, home-made way and they do contain 22% fresh country cream, fresh country eggs, cane sugar, fresh fruits, pure flavors and choice nut meats—and because of the fact that Chapman's Famous Ice Creams are not blown-up with air, they are heavy, rich and pure.

Chapman's will offer and serve the public—Milk Shakes, Malted Milks, Sundae, single and double-deck cones, dishes of ice cream and to carry out for home consumption, half-pints, pints, quarts and gallons, unpacked or packed with new ice, according to your wish. In addition to Chapman's Famous Ice Creams, a complete candy department will be in operation offering the public, exclusively MARY FRASER fine chocolates, candies and confections. These delicious candies are fresh daily, they are packed and wrapped and ready for instant service.

TELLS WHEN TO REPORT MISHAP

Only when someone is actually injured in an automobile accident or when your car collides with an unattended vehicle does the law require you to report details of the accident to police. That was the statement of Capt. H. C. Meehan, head of the California highway patrol in Orange county today as he answered a series of questions submitted by interested motorists.

"I had an accident recently in which the bumper of my car was damaged and one of the fenders of the other car, bent," a man stated, "I gave my card to the other party but did not report the incident."

Arrest Threatened
"This other party who now is demanding what I feel are excessive damages which I refuse to pay, threatens my arrest for not reporting the incident. Am I subject to arrest?"

Other questions with answers following are presented:

Q—Is traveling at a speed in excess of the 'prima facie' provision of our laws, conclusive proof of carelessness? A—Section 513 of the vehicle code states that "in any civil action proof of speed in excess of any prima facie limit at a particular time and place shall not establish negligence as a matter of law but in all such actions it shall be necessary to establish as a fact that the operation of a vehicle at such excess speed constituted negligence. Q—Is there any single speed limit across bridges?"

A—Such speeds vary and are determined by the State Department of Public Works. The minimum law however, is five miles per hour.

Breakdown Cited
Q—If my automobile breaks down, as it did recently, and I am unable to move it off the highway, am I liable to arrest as was threatened by several motorists? A—The law states specifically that you are not subject to arrest when you find your vehicle is damaged or disabled to the extent you cannot immediately move it off the highway. Q—I have been told that it is a violation of the law to enter upon any of the toll bridges in San Francisco without sufficient funds to pay the toll charges, also that animals cannot be led or driven across; is that correct? A—You have been correctly advised.

Q—Please answer the following questions that arose during a recent discussion at my home. How many miles of state highways are there and what number of arrests and stops are made annually by the California Highway Patrol? A—There are 56,368 miles of paved state highways (approximately). In 1937 the California Highway Patrol officers stopped 276,676 motorists and made 131,377 arrests for various violations. Q—Are all downtown parking rules suspended on Sundays and holidays? A—Not unless signs so indicate.

SLOT MACHINES SELDOM PAY
CINCINNATI, O., (UP)—A former slot machine operator here reveals that few slot machines give the player a chance to cash in on the jackpot. Many operators, he reveals, adjust the machines so that the jackpot symbols never appear. Chances of winning on a machine that has not been tampered with are "25,000 to 1."

NEW WINNERS AT FAIR NAMED

The results of judging of 4-H entries of vegetables, honey, bees and sheep at the Pomona Fair have been announced by Ross E. Crane, assistant farm advisor. The number of winners among local members is very gratifying to local 4-H members and leaders.

In the vegetable classes, the following were winners: Steve Foster, La Habra, first with pop corn; Sam Bendlin, Costa Mesa, first with watermelon and second with lima beans; William Beach, Costa Mesa, first with sweet potatoes and Italian tomatoes, second with squash; William Stocks, Buena Park, first with red onion, second with carrots and tomatoes; David Wishnack, Placentia, first with onions; Harvey Hartman, Buena Park, second with grapes.

Apiary Division
Edward Ehman of Olive was awarded first for citrus nursery seedlings.

In the apiary division, Benny Hayden of Tustin was awarded second for his frame of bees; Julius Hilbers of Anaheim, second for honey; Paul Lieb of Anaheim, three firsts for honey exhibits; Joe Lieb, Jr., of Anaheim, two first and two seconds for honey and bees.

In the fat lamb division Bob Kettler of Anaheim took major honors with his pen of three Suffolk lambs. He was awarded first for the pen and first and third for best individual lamb. Ted Peters was awarded third and fourth for his fat lambs. A total of $39 each was won by these two members.

Clubs Garner $70
In the feature booth division, a total of $70 was won by the following clubs: Katella Farmers, Anaheim, A. E. Sutliff, leader, $30; Tustin Liveoaks, Mrs. G. D. Gri-set, leader, $20; Cackle and Root club of La Habra, R. E. Launer, leader, $10; Olive Sunkist Girls, Mrs. O. J. Linnartz, leader, $10; and the Sandwash club, Harry Hoskins, leader, $10.

A total of 30 first places, 21 second places, eight third, and six fourth have been awarded to entries of Orange County 4-H club members. The total cash awards received to date is $218, with poultry entries to be judged later.

JEWISH NEW YEAR OBSERVANCE OPENS

Orange county Jewry today is looking with greater significance on the observance of Rosh Hashonah, the Jewish New Year, as the political scene in Europe and the strife throughout the world has awakened in the hearts of American Jews a deepened sense of responsibility.

From today until "Yom Kippur," the Day of Atonement, which falls on October 5, the start of the Jewish year 5699 will be marked with greater meaning for Jews throughout the world.

The time between today and October 5 are known as the days of penitence during which Jews seek forgiveness for their transgressions during the past year both against their Deity and their fellow men.

Our Children
By Angelo Patri
PARENTS AND THE TEACHER

"Why didn't the teacher tell me that he was going to school without combing his hair and cleaning his nails instead of giving him a bad mark? Now it is on his record card. How does she think I feel? The minute she found that he was not properly combed and washed she should have called me on the telephone. Instead she gives him a D in personal cleanliness."

There are some things that a teacher cannot be expected to do. Seeing that a child is properly bathed and combed and polished for school in the morning is one of them. Surely a boy of twelve ought to take care of himself in this respect, and surely his mother should look him over before he leaves in the morning. Boys of this age must have a little prodding about personal cleanliness and as he must attend to himself at home, home would seem to be the place for the prodding. The teacher does her full share when she suggests to the boy that he is not in form for school.

As to the calling the home on the telephone no teacher can be expected to do that unless in emergency. And the emergency should be plain. If teachers used the telephone to report that children were not as clean, or as bright, or as good, as they ought to be, mothers would soon leave home. Home has its duties as well as rights and sending children to school in form ready for work, seems to be a duty.

What can a parent expect from a teacher? First, I think, that the teacher go to work in good health, good humor, good form generally. Then, that the teacher be interested in the general progress of the pupil. If he does his work to a decent standard, the teacher should be ready to praise and encourage him; if he falls below that the teacher should by all means in his power, try to strengthen his failure, wipe out his weakness. It is only when the teacher must confess failure in his own field, that he appeals to home for help.

What kind of help should a teacher expect to get from home? If a child is failing and the teacher has exhausted all resources to avail he has the right to expect that the parents will have the child examined by a competent authority and present the report to the teacher to enable him to work intelligently with the child. Asking a parent to teach a child, to coach his backwardness, to make him behave in school, is rarely the effective way. Parents have the right to expect the teacher to do the teaching. He is trained for that work and paid for it. He should do it or have a good reason for not doing so. Parents are not teachers. They have too much more to do to keep a roof over their heads and food on their tables. They cannot be expected to make children behave in school when the teacher, who is with them, cannot teach to teach their children, to do so. Especially when we realize that most misbehavior is caused by a lack of power or interest in school training in relation to schoolwork. The teacher's problem once together. Parents and teachers must work together. One without the other is about one-third effective. Parents have the right to expect the children to school in form for learning. That implies that they come in good health, good spirits and clean inside and out.

Teachers have the right to expect good will. They have the right to expect that the parents will send the children to school in form for learning. That implies that they come in good health, good spirits and clean inside and out.

Mr. Patri has prepared a special booklet (No. 301) entitled, "Obedience," in which he tells parents how to cope with the difficult problems of disobedience. Send for it, enclosing ten cents. Europe On Edge In War Crisis

What static situation—neither France nor Germany wanting to test the others' fortifications. Meanwhile Britain and France would be gathering their tremendous reserves of men and money and materials for future eventualities.

In the event that Italy remained neutral for a time—a constant menace—their situation would be complicated.

Military men believed that the initial phase of a war, in which neither Britain nor France would attack Germany directly on land, might last for several months.

Depends On Russia
Much depended, they said, on whether Russia was able to send airplanes only to Czechoslovakia or was able to start armies through Rumania—along a 150 mile corridor from Russia to Czechoslovakia.

It was believed that Britain at first would furnish France principally with air forces and mechanized forces, without trying to send a huge expeditionary force as she did in the last war.

Military men forecast that Germany would achieve spectacular successes in Central Europe before the French and British could intervene effectively.

France and Britain were at a disadvantage geographically. They could not get at the Germans on land—one reason why Hitler refused to believe they would intervene.

Hitler has nearly 500,000 men working on the Rhineland fortifications opposite France.

With Belgium and Switzerland neutralized, the French and British could attack on a front of less than half as long as the western front in the 1914-1918 war.

As the war progressed a possibility was foreseen of an eventual attack on Germany from the Black Sea, with Turkey as a base. Turkey's relations with Britain and Russia have been excellent.

LAST MINUTE PACT MAY AVERT WAR
LONDON, Sept. 27.—(UP)—A communication from Nazi Fuehrer Adolf Hitler, understood to have been brought to London today, encouraged hope for a last-minute agreement averting war in Central Europe.

Sir Horace Wilson of the British foreign office came by plane from Berlin to report to British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain. Some sources believed he brought an invitation from Hitler for a British legion to police the Sudetenland of Czechoslovakia pending a plebiscite by which it would be surrendered to Germany.

Plans Address
Sir Horace arrived at Chamberlain worked out details of an address to the British Empire and Commonwealth.

Skyscraper Besieged

The world which it was believed would be an effort to end the international impasse threatening to end Saturday with a Nazi blow against Czechoslovakia.

"As you probably know, I have been to see the German chancellor," Sir Horace said to reporters as he hurried from his plane at Heston airfield to an automobile.

"I am now going direct to the prime minister. I cannot say anything beyond that fact. I do not know if I shall return to Germany."

Makes Proposals
In reference to the possibility that the Hitler demand for immediate action and Czechoslovakia's firm stand might be reconciled by using a British Legion in the Sudetenland, it was learned that the President of the British Legion, Maj. Gen. Sir Frederick Maurice, had gone to Berlin by airplane on Sunday night with the consent of Chamberlain.

He was understood to have put certain proposals to Hitler under which, if an agreement were reached, the British Legion would offer its services as an impartial neutral body in the areas concerned. Maurice returned to London Monday night and handed Hitler's reply to Chamberlain.

The British Legion, composed of World War veterans, is a counterpart of the American Legion.

Speeds War Plans
Chamberlain's speech, it was said, probably will be broadcast in German immediately after he speaks in English to the empire. Such a translation would be intended to reach the German people.

Britain, already having partly mobilized her defenses, worked feverishly on preparations for defense against air raids if war comes. Anti-aircraft guns were put up in London near the government buildings and the entire population was instructed on how to use gas masks which were being delivered.

The transport board of London announced the closing of seven subway stations at 8 p. m. until further notice "for urgent structural alterations" which obviously meant they would be used as air raid shelters.

S. F. PROJECTS OKED
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 27.—(UP)—Two contracts, totaling nearly $700,000 were awarded today by Director of Public Works Earl Lee Kelly for projects in San Francisco and on the Treasure Island site of the Golden Gate International Exposition.

LIMIT QUINS' APPEARANCE
CALLANDER, Ont., Sept. 27.—(UP)—Effective Oct. 4, the Dionne quintuplets will appear for tourists only once a day, from 10 to 10:30 a. m. Keith Munro, the quins' business manager, announced today.

Fuehrer Refuses To Take Blame

responsibility by the German nation and its leadership should further developments, despite all my efforts, lead to an outbreak of hostilities.

"In order to form a just judgment of the Sudeten question which is under discussion, it is indispensable to look back upon the events wherein lie the fundamental cause of the rise of this problem, and its dangerous implications may be found.

"The German nation laid down its arms in 1918, firmly trusting that peace with its then adversaries would realize the principles and ideals which were solemnly announced by President Wilson and just as solemnly adopted by all the belligerent powers.

Terms Unreasonable
"Never in history was the confidence of a nation more shamelessly betrayed than in that time. The terms imposed upon the vanquished nations in the peace treaty concluded in the Paris suburbs fulfilled nothing of the promises given. On the contrary, they created a political regime in Europe which made outlawed pariahs out of the vanquished nations and which was recognized by all reasonable observers as untenable.

"One of the points most clearly illustrating the character of the dictated peace treaties of 1919 was the establishment of the Czechoslovak state and delimitation of its frontiers regardless of all historical and national values.

Denied Rights
"The Sudeten territory also was included in this state, although that territory had always been German and although its inhabitants after the destruction of the Hapsburg monarchy expressed their will to join the German Reich.

"Thus the right of self-determination which Wilson proclaimed as one of the most important foundations of international life was simply refused to the Sudeten Germans.

"But this is not all. The peace treaties of 1919 imposed upon Czechoslovakia precise, and in their literal text reaching, obligations toward German national groups. These obligations also were not kept from the very beginning.

Cites Failure
"The League of Nations has completely failed to carry out its task of guaranteeing enforcement of these obligations.

"Since then the Sudeten country has been carrying on the most bitter fight in order to preserve its German character. It was a natural and inevitable evolution which led to the fact that after Germany's regaining of her strength and her union with Austria, the desire of the Sudeten Germans to preserve their culture and enter closer union with Germany was increased.

"Despite the loyal attitude of the Sudeten German party and its leaders, differences with the Czechs became even greater. It appeared more and more clearly very day that the Prague government was unwilling readily to render justice to the most elementary rights of the ing reason to continue their sojourn here arrange to return to the United States."

VALETTA, Malta, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Gas masks were distributed to civilians throughout Malta today.

VIENNA, Sept. 27.—(UP)—A group of 120 United States citizens from Prague arrived today by railroad and left immediately for Paris.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Sept. 27.—(UP)—The Belgian government forced up additional military reinforcements today bringing the total mobilization of reserves to six classes.

The decision to call up additional reserves was "inspired only by the desire for peace and security," an official announcement said. "The government also examined certain economic measures made necessary by the situation."

King Leopold held audiences with Paul Spaak, minister of foreign affairs, and Lt. Gen. Henri Denis, minister of defense.

ROME, Sept. 27.—(UP)—President Roosevelt's "non-realistic and unclear plea," has harmed the cause of peace incalculably, Virginia Gayda, editor of Giornale d'Italia, said in an editorial today.

"The days of peace are numbered," Gayda wrote. "The peace movement is losing its vigor and clarity," he added, ascribing his reasons:

1. President Roosevelt's message to Adolf Hitler and President Eduard Beneš.
2. Announcement of British, French and Russian solidarity.
3. French and British mobilization orders.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—(UP)—The United States embassy tonight issued a recommendation that Americans "who have no compelling reason to continue their sojourn here arrange to return to the United States."

TESCHEN, Czechoslovak-Polish Frontier, Sept. 27.—(UP)—A Polish foreign office spokesman, speaking by telephone from Warsaw, told the United Press correspondent today that the Polish army was ready to move into the Teschen minority area Friday or Saturday, if ordered, but that the government still hoped for a peaceful settlement of its claim to the area.

Chamberlain's speech. (President Roosevelt's peace message was not printed in the German newspapers.)

In saying the quarrel already had been settled in principle, Chamberlain declared the present hour-to-hour crisis was surprising, since the Czechs had originally accepted Hitler's demands.

AMERICANS URGED TO LEAVE EUROPE
WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—(UP)—The state department today officially warned American citizens of conditions existing in Europe and advised them to avoid travel there except in cases of absolute necessity.

The department warning was made public as President Roosevelt prepared to meet with his cabinet in a special session at 1 p. m. to consider the international situation. He said the cabinet probably will listen to the 1 u. m. broadcast from London in which Prime Minister Chamberlain will explain Great Britain's position in the Czech crisis.

Coincidentally the Czechoslovak legation said Minister Vladimir Hurban, just arrived from Europe, would see Secretary of State Hull at noon. It was reported but not confirmed that he also would see Mr. Roosevelt.

Latest available information at the department shows that on last Jan. 1 there were 88,000 Americans living in Europe on a permanent or semi-permanent basis.

This was exclusive of tourists, who probably raise the figure above 100,000 at this time of year. Hundreds have been returning from Europe, and reports from the war threatened continent in the past two days indicated a scramble to reach ports and sail for home.

The department announced that the statement was being telephoned to passport offices in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Boston. The 3500 clerks of courts throughout the country who are authorized to receive passport applications will receive letters advising them of the department's attitude.

There was no comment from the White House on today's reply to Chancellor Adolf Hitler to Mr. Roosevelt's plea to those directly concerned to avoid war in the Czechoslovakian-German border dispute.

Navy department officials said that four U. S. warships are in European waters. These could be used in an emergency to remove Americans from war torn countries. The cruiser Honolulu is at Portsmouth, Eng., three vessels are in French waters. These are the cruiser Omaha, and the destroyers Claxton and Manley. The Nashville, recently at Portsmouth has returned.

lies not in the hands of the German government, but in those of the Czechoslovak government alone to decide now whether they want peace or war.

"Adolf Hitler."

Made Proposals
"However, in order to make a last attempt to reach that goal by peaceful means, I made concrete proposals in a memorandum handed to the British premier on Sept. 23, proposals which meanwhile had been published.

"After the Czechoslovak had previously declared to the French and British governments to the Reich, the terms of the German memorandum pursue no other aim than to bring about fast, certain and just fulfillment of that Czechoslovak promise.

"I am convinced that you, Mr. President, when you picture the entire developments of the Sudeten German from the beginning to the present day, will recognize that the German government really never lacked either patience or understanding. It is not Germany's fault that there is a Sudeten German problem which has grown to its present unbearable state.

"The terrible fate of the people concerned in this problem makes any delay in its solution impossible. The possibilities of reaching just regulation by agreement are therefore exhausted with the proposals of the German memorandum. It

VALETTA, Malta, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Gas masks were distributed to civilians throughout Malta today.

VIENNA, Sept. 27.—(UP)—A group of 120 United States citizens from Prague arrived today by railroad and left immediately for Paris.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Sept. 27.—(UP)—The Belgian government forced up additional military reinforcements today bringing the total mobilization of reserves to six classes.

The decision to call up additional reserves was "inspired only by the desire for peace and security," an official announcement said. "The government also examined certain economic measures made necessary by the situation."

King Leopold held audiences with Paul Spaak, minister of foreign affairs, and Lt. Gen. Henri Denis, minister of defense.

ROME, Sept. 27.—(UP)—President Roosevelt's "non-realistic and unclear plea," has harmed the cause of peace incalculably, Virginia Gayda, editor of Giornale d'Italia, said in an editorial today.

"The days of peace are numbered," Gayda wrote. "The peace movement is losing its vigor and clarity," he added, ascribing his reasons:

1. President Roosevelt's message to Adolf Hitler and President Eduard Beneš.
2. Announcement of British, French and Russian solidarity.
3. French and British mobilization orders.

CITES '21-YEAR-OLD' MARITAL LAW IN PLEA TO VOID TIES

Because the laws of Nebraska require that a girl shall be 21 years of age before she can marry without parental consent, though other states place the age of consent at 18, Mrs. Judith Marie Lamb today asked superior court to void her marriage to Charles Peter Lamb, a butcher, which took place May 17, 1936, at Plattsmouth, Nebraska. She was 20 years old at the time, she states.

She also asks a divorce decree on the ground of non-support. The couple separated July 1, 1937. Attorney Harvey H. Myers represents the wife.

Others Submit Pleas
Mrs. Blanche E. Swain also seeks a divorce in a complaint filed today through Attorney Raymond Thompson, of Fullerton, against William E. Swain Jr., rancher and poultryman.

She charged cruelty, and alleges that Swain neglected his grove so that seven acres of avocado trees died, and that he failed to feed and water his poultry.

They were married in 1931 and separated last August 23. Ruben Sepeda sued Emma Sepeda for divorce, charging cruelty. The complaint, brought through Attorney Harry O. Warton, Anaheim, set forth that the Sepedas married in Santa Ana January 1, 1935, and separated two weeks ago, September 14.

Superior Judge H. G. Ames yesterday granted a divorce to Ann Cross Selway from Francis H. Selway, on grounds of cruelty.

All 28 Floors To Be Air Conditioned

DALLAS, Tex.—(UP)—The largest air conditioning project in the south was underway today, after D. A. Little, president of the Magnolia Petroleum company, announced that the 28-story Magnolia building here would be completely air conditioned for both winter and summer.

Construction of a steel and concrete shaft near the skyscraper is underway. The shaft will be used to house machinery for the air conditioning work and otherwise prevent disturbance of tenants of the building during the conversion period. The shaft will be as high as the building.

Four floors of the structure already are air conditioned, Little said, and the full project will be completed by April, 1938.

Each tenant of each office will be able to control the office temperature the year around, or to eliminate the air conditioning entirely if desired.

Pilot, Passenger Escape Death

ROUNDUP, Mont., Sept. 27.—(UP)—Niek Popovich, pilot, and Mrs. Dick Goodenbour, passenger in a small plane missing on a flight from Lewistown to Roundup, arrived here at dawn today unharmed.

The plane was forced down late yesterday with a broken rudder at a remote ranch. They left the plane there.

W. Sixth Gets Official Tree

Eucalyptus polyanthimos has been designated as the official tree for the parkway of West Sixth street between Artesia and King streets, the city council was advised last night in a communication from the forestry board. The designation was made at the recent forestry board meeting.

Police News

Revival of "wild west" days was reported to sheriff's officers by John Smith, Buena Park, last night. He reported several boys were shooting lights out on Darlington street in the 200-block.

Convicted in Anaheim on a drunk driving charge, Joe E. Rodriguez, 23, 1805 1-2 West First street, Santa Ana, was ordered to county jail for 100 days. He had the alternative of paying a $200 fine.

On a disturbance of the peace conviction in Anaheim, L. Lloyd Carson, 38, Anaheim, was sent to county jail yesterday to serve a 121-2 day term.

Arrested by Los Angeles sheriff's officers on a charge he has fallen, Fred C. Harbison, 43, Newhall, was returned here yesterday by Deputy Sheriff James Musick to face prosecution.

Discovered walking near a house behind the laundry at Main and Edinger streets at 9 p. m. yesterday without apparent reason, without identification and money, Hiram Reynolds, 22, who said he lives in Long Beach but whose given address was found to be fictitious, was nabbed. He was booked at county jail after Capt. R. S. Elliott contacted Long Beach police and a checkup on the address was made. Officers W. E. B. Sherwood and J. B. Stephenson made the arrest.

SILVER ACRES

Mrs. Frank Scofield, who visited her daughter, Mrs. William R. Taylor, in San Diego for a month, has returned to her home on Silver Drive.

Mrs. Phyllis Dinkel, of El Monte, is spending several weeks at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Van Keirshel.

Party Observes 11th Anniversary

GARDEN GROVE, Sept. 27.—Celebrating the 11th birthday anniversary of her daughter, Lois, Mrs. Al Bradley entertained at her home on Walnut street recently.

The children enjoyed games, with prizes going to Betty Noble and Jackie Scott. Later in the afternoon all found places for dinner at one long table centered with a birthday cake decorated in pink and yellow. The cake was cut and served with ice cream for the dessert course.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley were joined later for dinner by Mr. and Mrs. William Noble and daughter, Judith Ann. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dodson and children, Jimmy and Ann.

GOOD SAMARITAN SUFFERS

PHILADELPHIA, (UP)—Acting as good Samaritan to a fellow motorist proved costly for Leon Sywak, 19, Sywak was carrying a can of gasoline to a stalled motorist when he stopped suddenly. The gasoline spilled over the hot exhaust pipe and exploded.

BATHTUB MARINER BURNED

TULARE, Cal., (UP)—Eager to try out a new outboard motor to see how much water it would "throw," Dick Pickering set it up in the bathtub at his home. In the cloud-burst that followed, he was badly burned by the exhaust as he endeavored to shut off the motor.

THIS AND THAT

Santa Ana Junior college is to pay the city of Santa Ana 15 per cent of its gross gate receipts (instead of 10) at all football games played in the Municipal Bowl this season.

The new arrangement, already approved by the forestry board which is in charge of stadium operations, was suggested by the jaycee itself. Reasons: the college needed additional lockers, facilities for visiting teams. The city added them, will be repaid out of extra income from football.

Ray Heath tells this department that the Trojans have a new play: the quarterback hits right guard instead of right tackle.

Touch of irony there, I fear.

Don football followers eagerly await Santa Ana's game with Los Angeles City college as a test of strength with Riverside, which defeated Los Angeles last week, 21-7.

Seems to me a more interesting observation is possible out of two games in the Pasadena Rose Bowl. Pasadena beat Santa Ana, 31-19, a margin of 12 points. The next week Pasadena defeated San Bernardino, 39-26, a difference of 13 points. Last year, Santa Ana and San Bernardino played two ties, shared the conference championship. Looks like the teams are still equal.

Who are the fastest men on the Don squad? That question answered when Coach Bill Cook sent his charges through several laps of short and long sprints yesterday.

Lynn Arnett and Don Borden proved to be the speediest of the backs, with Danny Kauffman a close third.

Les Valentine, Vern Rutledge and Ted DeVelbiss had a "photo finish" in a 100 yard dash for all the ends.

Ed Becker and Virgil Stevens split in the two heats the tackles ran, Becker winning the 50 and Stevens the 100 yard dash. Gil Nehring was third.

Dick Horton won the 100 yard race for guards. Dale Mickelwait and John (Pete) Kotlar finished first and second in the 50 yard sprint.

Big Jim Daneri returns from the north with a flash that "Tex" Oliver and Bill Cole got off to a blazing start as Oregon's new football coaches.

Daneri is an Oregon State man, and did not even see Oregon beat Washington State, but he brings back a clipping from the Portland Oregonian that tells the story. Daneri had expected to play for O. S. C. this year but was ruled out because he hadn't completed his athletic eligibility in the prescribed five years.

The newspaper story about Oliver's team was written by L. H. Gregory, hard-bitten sports editor of The Oregonian, and I give you the lead:

"Out of the long-forgotten football jungles of Eugene came a different kind of a University of Oregon football team Sunday, a fast-running, hard-hitting, terrific blocking crew that made it a brilliant debut in the first game of the season by running left guard to thump an opening field goal for a 3 to 0 starter, but just a few seconds after that to score the touchdown."

"Washington State kicked off out of bounds and Oregon took the ball on their own 35. On the first play Bill Frank Emmens, the sprinter from Beaverton, took the ball on a half spin, broke through the Cougar left guard position, reversed his field and, aided by some beautiful downfield blocking as well as his own speed, he ran for 45 yards and a touchdown. It stood 10 to 0 before the Cougars had well caught their breaths."

"Oregon actually scored two more touchdowns, but both were called back on penalties."

Daneri saw Oregon State lose to Idaho last Saturday. He reports that Mac Beall played splendid at quarterback while he was in the game, his blocking being nothing short of sensational. Dick Tauber, another former Don, broke in to Beall's lineup at tackle. Neither Beall nor Tauber started, however.

FEREBEE ENDS 72-HOLE STINT AT MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE — (UP) — J. Smith Ferebee, marathoning golfer, completed a 72-hole stint on the Tuckaway Country club course today and then added three holes before continuing to Chicago in his attempt to play 600 holes in four days, for wagers reported to total $100,000.

The Chicago broker spent 5 hours and 23 minutes on the suburban Cudahy course, the fifth he has visited in three days.

He hopped off for Chicago in a chartered plane at 10:55 a. m. hoping to complete a 72-hole round at the Olympic fields course before night.

Ferebee carded 80, 84, 86 and 87 on his four rounds of the par 70 and then added 14 strokes on the three extra holes.

Added to 84 holes at Hollywood, 81 at Phoenix, 72 at Kansas City and 72 at St. Louis, it left him 216 holes to play.

He limped badly as he finished his final round at St. Louis with the aid of automobile headlights. Last night, and said that his blistered right heel was bothering him a great deal and that he was very tired, but expected to reach his goal.

He has used 1441 strokes thus far, an average of slightly less than 84 for each 18 hole round. There are 10 persons making the trip in his chartered plane and none of them sleep except when the ship is in the air. Lillian Fette, hostess furnished by the airline, was reported on the verge of collapse from lack of sleep.

The PAYOFF

Politics enters the football picture at Ohio State, according to reports abroad on High Street. Jobs for athletes in the various state departments in Columbus might be withdrawn, it is said . . . because some of Governor Davey's lieutenants are dissatisfied with the way university people supported—or did not support—Davey in his losing battle in recent primaries.

Nick Katzmeyer, Saint Mary's tackle, is springing some psychology on the Gaels. . . . He clipped all the unkind and uncompilimentary remarks printed about "Slip" Madigan's boys last year, and pastes one a day on the bulletin board. . . . He figures that he will have enough for the entire season.

Coaches and trainers agree that boys perform blocking chores. . . . tackling, ball-carrying, being tackled, and being blocked, produce the next most number of injuries in that order.

Northwestern is three-and-a-half deep at the guards this fall. . . . The Wildcats have no less than seven topnotchers, including the lettermen, Don Guritz, Dick Wells, Hal Method, John Goldak, and Fred Heitman. . . . and tough-looking sophomores in Art Niedbalski and Joe Lokane. . . . Elmer Layden may be sorry that he let Niedbalski get out of South Bend.

BIG CENTERS LESS MOBILE
Stubbs Gomer Jones, Ohio State's All-America center of 1935, returned to his Alma Mater as assistant line coach this fall. . . . where he is working on Charley Maag, sophomore snapperback who stands 6 feet 3 inches and weighs 215. . . . Buckeye fans say Maag lays himself open to manslaughter charges on defense, but has a lot to learn on offense.

Jones prefers a smaller man at center. . . . Big boys are great at batting down passes, but they can't

'Circus' Costs Golf Angel Cool 10 Grand

BY HENRY MCLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y.—One hundred and eight notes (or thereabouts) from the 108-hole tournament at the Fenway Country club:

"I Married an Angel" is the tune Mrs. George Murphy, wife of the backer of this golfing circus, is singing these days . . . because George, who put up the $13,500 prize money, is going to lose a cool ten grand . . . the tournament, what with the terrible weather and poor location of the tourney site, has been a bust to date.

Sid Brews, the golfing diamond from Johannesburg, South Africa, thinks it is amazing that American professionals play so well, considering the sort of courses they have to play on. . . . Brews rates our best courses as no better than England's public links. . . . He found a strong supporter in Gene Sarazen, the Connecticut farmer. . . . Gene said he didn't know what the club officials planned to do with Fenway's greens after this tournament, but he thought they probably were going to sell them to some state highway department for use as detours.

The greens are pretty awful, reminding one of the pelt of blooded Shetland pony. . . . What value in this tournament? Two leaders in this drive are Willie Burke and Paul Runyan, pros who aren't much longer off the tee than week-end golfers. . . . and this tournament has given the lie to all those 300-yard hitters you have heard about. . . . The fifth hole has been marked off like a gridiron, and no player, not even Jimmy Thomson or Sam

Snead, has reached the 300-yard mark. . . . The boys are saying in the locker room, however, that whoever marked off this hole used a yardstick with 48 inches on it. . . .

The upper crust golfers—and the game is as socially conscious as Newport—are tremendously excited over Horton Smith's wedding on October 8. . . . It will be the doggiest event since the Westminster Kennel club show, but it won't stop the earnest hard-working Smith from doing his duty for dear old Spaldings. . . . He will play an exhibition match on the morning of his wedding. . . . Paul Runyan, and "Jug" McSpaden fly to South America this week-end for a series of matches in the coffee country. . . .

Speaking of Spaldings, that company has given notice to the following golf consultants: Bob Cruikshank, Byron Nelson, Ed Dudley, Runyan, "Wiffy" Cox, Frank Walsh, Joe Kirkwood, Clarence Clark, Al Watrous, Dick Metz, Jay Laffoon, Olin Dutra, Willie Hunter, and Willie MacFarlane. . . . This wholesale dismissal is a result of the Robinson-Patman fair trades act. . . . Don't ask me what the Robinson-Patman act is, but I do know that if you disagree it you will wind up as assistant pro in Leavenworth, Alcatraz or Atlanta.

The most talked about youngster in big time golf is Benny Hogan of Texas. . . . there is a belief that within two years he will be the top man in the business. . . . That is, if Sam Byrd, the former Yankee outfielder, doesn't beat him

O'Shannon Has Edge In Rough, Tough Go

"Red" O'Shannon, the Orange County Athletic club's current number one leather slinger, outpointed Willie Collins, tough Whittier Negro, in a hectic battle last night that without a doubt was one of the toughest "Red" has encountered in his ring experience here.

They started out at the bell slugging toe-to-toe with Collins using his elbows more than his gloves, mauling Red's manly "puss" and causing the wrath of Referee Jack McDonald to be poured on the black boy during the rest period for his alleged unethical tactics.

Collins came out for the second round with a burst of steam and took such a healthy haymaker at O'Shannon that he knocked himself flat and then began the elbow massage again but was promptly met with a shower of sizzling lefts and rights dished out by "Red" and "Hail Columbia" from the referee. And then the real slugging began. They hit each other with enough haymakers during the third and fourth rounds to maim a Missouri mule, keeping the fans on the edge of their seats awaiting the lethal punch which never came. O'Shannon took a close decision.

Kent Roberts, long rangy Negro, gave Jack Leonard a definite punching lesson in the second half of the double main event, knocking the white batter down for three nine counts in the third round. Roberts poured it on with such fury in the fourth it remains a mystery how Leonard managed to weather the storm and end up on his feet.

Blonde little Wayne Penn knocked Floyd Savia for a loop with a beautiful right to the whiskers in the second round of a whirlwind battle.

L. A. GAME TO TELL: JOSEPH STAFFORD OUT

What Santa Ana junior college's Dons do here Friday night against Los Angeles City college should be a barometer of what to expect from Coach Bill Cook's gridders in future battles this season.

Riverside, which rates as one of the strongest teams in the Eastern Jaycee conference, swamped the Los Angeles eleven, 21-7, last Friday night. So if the Dons are able to beat Los Angeles they can be considered in the running for the conference title. Reports from Los Angeles indicate that the Cubans will be materially strengthened for the Dons, with several members of last season's championship eleven reporting for action for the first time yesterday.

The crimson-clad Los Angeles eleven will come here Friday with nearly an all-veteran lineup, which includes nine lettermen in starting spots. Harold (Red) Gardner, a big guard from Manual Arts, and Harry Berukoff, flashy ball packer from Roosevelt high, are the only two new men who have clinched first string berths.

Hoisch Troublesome
Lloyd Hoisch, a high-class punter and ball carrier, Hoisch is certain to give the Dons plenty of trouble. One thing is certain, Coach Glenn Ackerman of the invading eleven will have a much more polished eleven on the field than Greenberg tie—not break—Babe Ruth's major league home run record of 59. . . . "I wouldn't mind if some fellow got 60, but I'd like to see Ruth's record stand forever," asserts Wyatt. "The Babe helped every ball player by his slugging. Ruth was responsible for players getting higher salaries. That's why I hope his record is never broken."

Meanwhile, here in Santa Ana, Coach Bill Cook was faced with a serious injury problem. On the shelf for an indefinite period are Co-Captain Johnny Joseph, stellar all-conference end, and Charles Stafford, blocking halfback who displayed unusual promise in practice last week and again in the Santa Monica game. It was Stafford's punting that stood out above anything else. A badly bruised ankle unless given at least two weeks rest, is Stafford's trouble.

Arnett Has Bad Knees
Several other Dons are handicapped by slight injuries but are expected to be ready to go against the Cubans. They include Sam Henderson, with a pulled muscle; Lynn Arnett, swollen knees, and Tom Anderson, badly cut lip.

Bob Schildmeyer, who has been out with the flu for the past two weeks, returned to practice for the first time yesterday. Schildmeyer is a lanky blocking halfback from Orange, who at the start of the season, to fill in the blocking spots left open by graduation.

Newcomers who checked out equipment for the first time yesterday, included Peter Lovell, of the Grover Miller and Ralph Metcalf. The Don roster now numbers 76.

Pigskin Paragraphs

(By United Press)
BERKELEY.—Coach "Stub" Allison juggled his University of California football lineup today in preparation for Saturday's game with Washington State at Pullman. Jack Smith was moved from end to tackle and Jack Lang, reserve tackle, was put at the opposite end spot.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY.—Stanford's tentative starting lineup for Saturday's opening football game against Santa Clara was announced today by Coach "Tiny" Thornhill. It included: Ends, Clark and McElroy; tackles, Zagar and Andersen; Guards, Sutton and Dakkan; center, Calvelli; quarterback, Standlee; left half, Fay; right half, Gallana; fullback, Paulman.

EUGENE, Ore.—Hank Nilsen, blocking halfback, was the only casualty as University of Oregon returned to football practice today after a 10-2 victory over Washington State Saturday. Nilsen was kicked in the head but was expected to be ready for the U. C. L. A. game here Saturday.

CORVALLIS, Ore.—Oregon's State football team was reported without serious injury today as the squad prepared to entertain for S. C. Saturday. Coach Lon Stiner concentrated on O. S. C.'s weak defense which was partially responsible for the 13-0 defeat by Idaho Saturday.

LOS ANGELES.—A Southern California team much juggled after the Alabama defeat prepared today for Saturday's conference opener against Oregon State. Harry Smith, Boyd Morgan and Bill Flisk were demoted to third team. Coach Howard Jones gave his jobs to Floyd Phillips, Andy Poccianti and Bob Peoples. Mickey Anderson replaced Quarterback Grenville Lansdell who has a game leg.

LOS ANGELES.—Fearing rain during the Oregon game, Coach Bill Spaulding ordered wet ball passing practice today for the University of California at Los Angeles. The Bruins scrimmaged against Oregon plays. The squad goes north Wednesday.

BURKE FIGHTS SAINTS SHIFT TO HOLD LEAD WEBB TO GUARD

BY HARRY FERGUSON
(United Press Sports Editor)

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y.—Come along with us today to the slopes of Fenway Country club and watch old Billy Burke, two strokes ahead of the pack and fighting like a wildcat to stay there, play the final 36 holes of a golf tournament he wants desperately to win, not for fame but for a house.

A house, a simple $5000 house in Cleveland, where he can poke at the weeds in a garden when his legs can't take the pounding along the fairways, when his putting eye is dimmed and when he is ready to sit back and spin a tale of the good old days when golf tournaments went 108 holes and there was $5000 for the winner.

TEXT OF HITLER'S ADDRESS ON CZECHOSLOVAKIA CRISIS

BERLIN, Sept. 26.—(Special)—The text of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's address today on the international situation follows:

On February 22, I made before the Reichstag Deputies a fundamental demand concerning which there could be no bargaining. The nation heard it and understood what I meant.

One statesman (meaning former Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg, of the then independent Austria) failed to understand—he has been removed, and my promise of that time has been fulfilled.

(Hitler said he spoke February 22, but apparently meant February 20. On that date, he called for return of German minorities in other countries and colonies lost in the World War. Of Austria, which he was to take over March 13, he said merely that an "appeasement" with her had been achieved.)

For the second time, I spoke on this same demand before the Reich's party convention in Nurnberg, and again the nation heard. Today I once more stand before you speaking to the people itself as in the days of our struggles, and you know what that means.

Today there must remain no vestige of doubt in the world—today it is not a Fuehrer or a man who speaks, but the whole German people.

And if I am now spokesman of this German people, I know at this hour that all the listening millions of this people are as one, that they indorse these words and make them their own testimony.

Let other statesmen search themselves and see if it is the same with them.

The question which has been agitating us most deeply for the past months and weeks is well known to them.

The question which has been agitating us most deeply for the past months and weeks is well known to them.

Its name is not so much Czechoslovakia, its name is rather Herr Benes (Eduard Benes, president of Czechoslovakia).

This name unites all that is agitating millions today, what either drives them to despair or fills them with fanatic determination.

How came this question to reach such importance?

Repeats Purposes of Foreign Policy. I will here briefly repeat, as I have done before, the essence and purposes of Germany's foreign policy.

German foreign policy, as distinct from (that of) many democratic states, is fixed in our philosophy of life.

This philosophy of our people of the new Third Reich is based on the maintenance and safeguarding of the existence of our German people.

We are not interested in oppressing other peoples.

We do not wish at all to have other nationalities among us. We want to live after our own patterns and let others live after theirs.

This, in a manner our philosophy may well say racially bound conception—leads to limitation to our foreign policy; that is, our foreign political aims are not limitless or random ones nor are they aims determined by occasional happenings.

They are laid down by determination to serve the German people alone, to maintain it in this world and to preserve its existence.

Charges German Trust Shamefully Betrayed. What is the situation today?

You know that at one time the German people, too, was imbued under the slogan "self-determination of peoples" with belief in super national assistance and that it thereby renounced utilizing its own strength to the very end.

You know that this week German trust of those days was

HITLER IN DEFENSE OF GERMAN POSITION of the Hungarians, Slovaks, Poles, Ukrainians—naturally I am speaking only for the fate of my Germans.

Promised To Divide Nation Into Cantons

When Mr. Benes fled his state together at that time he solemnly promised to divide the state into cantons according to the Swiss system because there were some among the democratic statesmen who had qualms of conscience.

We all know how Mr. Benes solved cantonalism. Now he began his system of terror. Then when the Germans attempted to protest against this arbitrariness and rape they were blown to bits and a war of annihilation has raged ever since. In those years of Czechoslovakia's "peaceful progress" nearly 600,000 Germans had to leave Czechoslovakia for a very simple reason—they would have perished of hunger had they remained.

The whole picture from 1918 to 1938 showed one thing quite clearly; that Mr. Benes was resolved simply to root out Germanism slowly and gradually and in this he succeeded up to a certain point.

Succeeded Slowly In Gaggling Millions

He has plunged countless people into deepest misery.

He has managed to keep millions of people in fear and trembling and with continuous application of terror he succeeded slowly in gagging those millions.

It was then that the true reasons for existence of this state, seen from an international viewpoint, were revealed.

It was no longer a secret that this state was destined to be used as a German baiter when the opportunity offered.

The French Air Minister Pierre Cot a few weeks ago said blandly: "We need this state because from its territory German economic and industrial life can be most easily destroyed."

So this state was used by Bolshevism as its point of entry.

It was not we who sought a contact with Bolshevism, but Bolshevism used this state to dig a channel into Central Europe.

And now comes this scandalous situation: This state which is ruled by a minority only, force its nationalities to a policy that one day makes them shoot their own brothers.

Rule By Terror Charged To Benes

Mr. Benes rises and demands from Sudeten Germans: If I conduct war against Germany you must shoot Germans. If you do not want to you are traitors and I will have you shot.

And he demands the same from

Hungarians, Poles and Slovaks, that they defend aims which are indifferent to the Slovak people.

The Slovak people want peace and no adventures.

Mr. Benes, however, dares to stamp all these human beings either as traitors to the people or traitors to the nation. Either they betray their people and are ready to shoot or Mr. Benes says: You are traitors to the nation and therefore will be shot.

This is the greatest impudence thinkable—to force alien people under certain conditions to shoot their own fellow-citizens because the bad, rotten, criminal state regime wants it.

I can assure you right here: When we occupied Austria my first order was: No Czech needs or may serve in the German army.

I never want to cause him qualms of conscience. I do not want him to do it, he shall never do it.

Mortality Great in German Tribes
Who, however, opposes Mr. Benes's total aims is being persecuted, terror breaks over him, he can be sure of jail and he will simply be killed economically.

Democratic world apostles cannot remove this from the world. The results have been dreadful in this state of Mr. Benes. Here again I speak for Germans.

Mortality is greatest there among all German tribes. Their death of children is the greatest, unemployment is the most terrible there.

Suicides are most frequent. It is only a question as how long this is to endure.

People Looked on For 20 Years

For 20 years Germans in Czechoslovakia and German people in the Reich looked on. Perhaps they had to look on, not because they were ever willing to take it, but because they were defenseless and could not help themselves from their tormentors and the world—these world democracies.

Yes, when anywhere a traitor is locked in or if a man, if you please, who has been inciting against their race from the pulpit is merely taken into custody then there is excitement in England and indignation in America.

But when hundreds of thousands of humans are driven out, when tens of thousands are delivered into jails, when thousands are massacred—then these fine democracies are not moved in the least.

We have learned in these years thoroughly to despise them.

During all this time and even today—this I must state—we find but one state, one great power in Europe and at its head, above all, one man who has a full understanding for this ardent need of our people.

Lauds Friend Benito Mussolini
It is, I think I may say this is my great friend, Benito Mussolini.

We shall never forget what he did during this time and what attitude the Italian people took.

If a similar hour of need should come for Italy I will go before the German people and urge it to take a similar stand.

Then there will not be two states defending themselves, but one solid block.

I said in the Reichstag on February 22 (February 20) that this (meaning the Czechoslovak situation) must be changed. Only Mr.

Benes changed it differently. He started a more radical system of oppression, greater terror, a period of dissolutions, bans, confiscations, etc.

This went on until May 21 and you can not deny, my friends, that it was truly endless German patience that we practiced.

This May 21 was unbearable enough. I have already told the story of this month already at the Reich's party convention.

There at last were to be elections in Czechoslovakia. They could no longer be postponed.

Denies Czech's Military Occupation
So Mr. Benes thinks out a way to intimidate Germans there—military occupation of those sections.

He still keeps up this military occupation in the expectation that so long as his hirelings are there nobody else will dare raise a hand against him.

It was an impudent lie that Germany had mobilized. That had been used in order to cloak the Czech mobilization, excuse it and explain it.

What happened then, you know. The infamous international world set at Germany. Germany had not called upon one man. It never thought of solving this problem militarily.

I still had hopes that the Czechs would recognize at the last minute that this tyrannic regime could not keep up.

But Mr. Benes believed Germany was fair game. Of course, he thought he was covered by France

Czechoslovakia—As Hitler Would Have It

Here are the new frontier lines and plebiscite area Germany is demanding of Czechoslovakia, a replica of the map sent to the Czech government by Hitler. The areas Hitler wants include both the Sudetic mountains of the north, and the Bohemian range on the southwest, natural barriers of defense for Bohemia for centuries. Hitler's proposed boundary lines cut vital rail communications.—(Copyright N. Y. Herald Tribune, from Acme Telephoto).

Benes changed it differently. He started a more radical system of oppression, greater terror, a period of dissolutions, bans, confiscations, etc.

This went on until May 21 and you can not deny, my friends, that it was truly endless German patience that we practiced.

and England, and nothing possibly could happen to him.

And, if everything failed there still was Soviet Russia to fall back on.

Accuses Benes of Shooting Foes
Thus the answer of that man was: No, more than ever shoot down, arrest, and incarcerate all those whom he did not like for some reason. Then finally my demands came from Nurnberg.

The demands now were quite clear. Now for the first time I said, that now at least nearly 20 years after Mr. Wilson's right of self-determination for the 3,500,000 must be enforced and we shall not just look on any longer.

And again Mr. Benes replied: New victims, new incarcerations, new arrests. The German element gradually began to flee.

Then came England. I informed Mr. Chamberlain unequivocally of what we regard as the only possibility of solution.

It is the most natural solution possible.

I know that all these nationalities no longer want to remain with this Mr. Benes.

In the first place, however, I speak of Germans. For these Germans I have now spoken and now given assurances that I am no longer willing to look on quietly and passively as this lunatic believes he can simply mishandle three and a half million human beings.

Declares German Patience Exhausted
I left no doubt that German pa-

But, Mr. Benes sits in Prague and is convinced "nothing can happen to me. Behind me stand England and France."

And now, my fellow countrymen, I believe the moment has come for taking business.

When anybody suffers such disgrace and such humiliation for 20 long years there certainly can be no doubt about his being peace-loving.

If anyone develops patience such as we developed it certainly can not be claimed that we lust for war.

And finally: Mr. Benes has 7,000,000 behind him while here stands a people of 75,000,000. Cites Memorandum Sent British

I now have addressed a memorandum to the British government with a last and final German proposal.

This proposal is nothing else but the realization of what Mr. Benes already has promised.

The content of the proposal is very simple: territory that is nationally German and wants to join Germany is to go to Germany.

Not when Mr. Benes has succeeded in driving out one or two million Germans, but right now, instantly.

I have selected a frontier that is fair to Czechoslovakia on the basis of material compiled some decades past on ethnographic and language divisions.

I am a more just man than Mr. Benes and I do not want to use the power I possess.

I have therefore adopted this rule: This and this territory comes under German sovereignty because it is essentially inhabited by Germans.

The final boundaries, however, I will leave to a vote of the people there, meaning a local vote will be taken.

And so that no one can say that this would not be fair enough, I have decided to adopt the Saar plebiscite statute as a basis for this vote.

Tells Yielding Plebiscite Demand
I was and am willing to have a plebiscite in the whole Czechoslovak territory.

But Mr. Benes objects to this and so do his friends, that this is to be only in certain sections.

Very well, I have yielded there. I said, "Mr. Chamberlain, if you insist on the principle that it is to be only in certain disputed sections—all right with me."

And so that no one can say this plebiscite would not be fair enough I was ready to give a vote supervised by an international control commission.

Then I went farther. I was ready now to leave defining of the new borders to German and Czech commissions.

Mr. Chamberlain asked whether this could not be an international commission. I even agreed to this.

All right: An international commission should do it.

Furthermore, I was ready even to withdraw troops during the plebiscite and today gave consent to invite the British legion which offered this time to go into this region to maintain peace and order.

Discusses Reception of Memo
And then I was ready for such an international commission to

When his military subjugation began anew and in sharper measure. And now look at the figures: 10,000 one day, the next day 20,000, the next day 37,000, two days later 42,000, then 73,000, then it is 90,000, 137,000 and today 21,400.

Whole stretches of land are depopulated. Villages are burned to the ground. An attempt is made to smoke Germans there out with grenades and gas.

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 27.—On the Boulevard today, I met an old acquaintance—a scenario writer who, only two years ago, was down and out. The finance company had repossessed his jalopee, he owed nearly $5,000 in small debts, his wife and daughter were down to their last cheap dresses and they were able to keep a roof over their heads only because the landlord already held the bag for so much back rent that he could not afford to put them out. Repeatedly offered jobs on newspapers and magazines, he refused them all and stuck grimly to the hope that he would click with some of his screen stories. I thought, then, that I had never met a bigger sap.

Today, he drove me to his shack in the Hollywood Hills in a new car—a Cadillac. The 'shack' proved to be a ten room mansion. In its forty foot living room stood a brand new, ultra-expensive grand piano and a combination radio-phonograph that must have cost at least a thousand. And he is riding—hard—the most expensive collector's hobby of them all—first editions. I estimate his library at $3,000.

According to every sane standard, that writer was a fool who deserved to starve. And the wife who encouraged his folly deserved the fate that usually befalls this world's grasshoppers. But this is Hollywood and same standards don't apply. Is it any wonder that motion picture people are such incurable optimists?

The Lakesiders tramped in for an evening of bridge last night and someone suggested a novel competition—the coining of in-a-line descriptions of famous movie stars. Here are some of the better efforts, salvaged from the waste basket when the shouting was over: Katharine Hepburn—a puppet with the strings missing but the jerky movements still there; Greta Garbo—the woman who wears her death mask; Dorothy Lamour—a South Sea travel poster come to life; Madeleine Carroll—an exquisite sculpture—in dry ice; Alice Faye—radiant ill-health; Shirley Temple—Life's climax—in childhood. Try it some evening when you've nothing better to do.

Gail Patrick is taking a series of allergy tests in an effort to find out just what causes her persistent hay fever.

Five little Mexican boys have been working in "Arizona Wildcat." Ragged, uncombed and bare-footed, they were such "regular" kids, that they soon became favorites with everyone on the set and the director, who had personally selected them because they "looked like their parts," congratulated himself anew whenever he saw them. Yesterday, they were paid for a week's work and today today, when they arrived on the set, they were unrecognizable. Their dotting mothers had taken them in hand. Their hair was freshly cut and neatly combed; their ragged, characterful clothes had been replaced by finery. One look at them and the director began to tear his hair and shout for "wardrobe." They're fitted out again in rags, but the haircuts are a more difficult problem. The boys will finish the picture wearing hats in every scene.

I wonder how many of you remember the fuss and furor two years ago about Sherrill Walker, the beautiful Pasadena miss who won a movie contract by being queen

NEWPORT GIRL TO BE HONORED

The stage is set for the presentation of a certificate of merit from the American National Red Cross to Miss Dee Williamson, daughter of Mayor Harry Williamson, and a member of the Newport Union High School. This National recognition has been awarded because Miss Williamson a year ago made a heroic rescue of a young boy from drowning. She is a member of the American National Red Cross Junior Life Saving service. The Costa Mesa and Newport Lions club, the Newport Harbor service club, and presidents of other community organizations have joined with the Red Cross in the luncheon meeting which will be held at the Newport Union high school cafeteria, Tuesday noon on October 4.

Rev. Brigham to Speak
The Rev. David Brigham, Placentia, will be speaker of the day. Dr. Brigham attended the National Red Cross convention in San Francisco in May. He is now chairman for Placentia. Miss Margaret Glenn, chairman of the water safety and life saving program of the Santa Ana chapter will present the certificate of merit.

The Newport Union high school will furnish the music, and table decorations. The committee in charge is Miss Margaret Glenn, Santa Ana, Thomas E. Bouchee, Balboa, Theodore Robins, J. D. Watkins, Balboa Island, Harry Welsh, secretary of the chamber of commerce, Newport Beach.

Mrs. Anderson Is Named Matron

Mrs. Bertha N. Anderson who has been matron for the Santa Ana police department during the past three months under temporary appointment was given a permanent appointment last night under civil service by city council.

The permanent appointment was made upon recommendation of Police Chief Floyd W. Howard after her name had been certified as being the first name on the list of those who took civil service examinations for the place. Mrs. Anderson took the place of Mrs. Dorothy Russick who moved to Santa Barbara.

City To Receive More From J. C.

Through an agreement between the city and Santa Ana Junior college by which lockers are added at the municipal bowl on a 50-50 basis, the city's income from junior college game receipts has been increased from the 10 per cent total of last fiscal year to 15 per cent now.

Last year, the city obtained approximately $1800 from junior college game receipts and an additional $775 from other events. The forestry board, in charge of the bowl operation, made the agreement with the junior college for the increase in the percentage rate of income from junior college game receipts.

Santiago Park Praised By Club

A communication thanking city council for allowing the Santa Ana Breakfast club to hold a September 1 program at Santiago park was received and filed last night. It was signed by R. H. Andrews, secretary, and said "all Santa Ana should be proud that we have such a fine park that makes it possible and a privilege to hold a breakfast crowd picnic in such a beautified setting."

"Y" BOASTS OF NOTABLE MARK AFTER 15 YEARS OF SERVICE

Editor's note: This is the first of a series of articles to be published by The Register concerning the activities of the eight agencies that will receive support from the $25,000 Community Chest fund for 1938-39. Today's article concerns the Y. M. C. A. whose share of the fund is $9,000.

The Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. building will be 15 years old next April. The record of 15 years of service to the community is a notable one. It is a record of youth training in Christian citizenship, of health service through physical education, of service to men away from home, and of general service to the community in a multitude of ways.

This work has been done through days of prosperity and through days of depression without reservation, the effort being continually made to meet the most urgent needs just so far as the resources of the work have permitted.

Entire Community
The Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. operates on the basis of service to the entire community with little restriction as to actual membership in the Association. The building is recognized as a center of activity and as a convenience to the whole community.

Hundreds of meetings are held in the building during the year, not in any way related to the Y. M. C. A. program, but of interest to groups of citizens who make use of the rooms for their various gatherings. Hundreds of boys use the swimming pool, without restriction as to membership, in the "free swims" which are a regular feature of the schedule. The game laws and lobbies are used by all who desire to enjoy them.

Training on Teams
During the past year there were some 28 organized groups of boys and young men, enrolling over 500 members, ranging from small boys nine years of age to older ones up to 20, engaged in various lines of training in team work, team play, Bible study and citizenship. Some 36 organized teams of boys and men played in various athletic leagues, enrolling about 400 players. Educational clubs and classes, life saving groups, swimming classes and other program features kept the facilities in use almost continually.

One interesting item is the work for Mexican boys and young men as carried on in the Mexican Youth Progressive Clubs. More than 100 boys and men have been members of this group, which has held weekly meetings for study and play.

Self Reliance
The children's swimming campaign during the past summer was one of unusual success, with about 200 boys and girls receiving instruction in the art of swimming, and most of them gaining the ability to take care of themselves in the water.

The summer camp for boys at Osceola attracted nearly 100 boys from Santa Ana during the summer. Boy's Secretary Herbert R. Thomas of the local Association was loaned to the County Y for the summer camp, which is jointly operated by four Y. M. C. A. organizations of Orange County and which was kept open and filled with young people from June 18 to September 6. In this unique environment boys were given not only wholesome outings, but from one week to two weeks of intensive training in living on the highest levels.

Besides the general activities of the "Y" there are thousands of individual services that are offered that never make their way to the official records. The Y. M. C. A. seeks to serve the entire community in every way within its ability.

Artistic Leader

Talented wife of one of the leaders in Gen. Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese government, Mrs. Ernest Tong, pictured here on arrival in San Pedro, Calif., is heading a group of eight noted Chinese actors and musicians on a five-month tour of universities and women's clubs of the United States. Object of the tour is to acquaint the western world with the musical and theatrical art of China.

City May Send Envoy To Parley

Invitation from Stephen I. Smoot, secretary of the Pacific Coast Plumbing Inspectors association of Los Angeles, to city council to send a representative to the association's ninth annual convention, at Hotel Claremont, Berkeley, October 13, 14, and 15, was referred to Councilman William Penn for disposition. He said it may be possible to send Electrical Inspector H. O. Crowe to the event. Disposition of latest plumbing and health equipment and numerous educational talks will be on the program.

GETS POLICE POWERS
Frank L. Avery, 204 South Birch, was made a special police officer by city council last night, upon recommendation of Police Chief Floyd W. Howard. He is a school crossing guard.

S. A. AUTOISTS HURT IN CRASH

Three Santa Ana persons were recovering today from injuries received yesterday in a spectacular four-car accident on the main highway near Patrick's Point, 22 miles north of Eureka. The Register learned. Four others were injured in the same accident.

Mrs. May Calder suffered fractured pelvis; Mrs. Carla H. Olson, fractured ankle, and her husband, Bennie C. Olson, service foreman for the telephone company, cuts and bruises. Olson, officials reported, is facing a reckless driving charge.

Fog Obscures Road
According to the investigation, the Olson car going north, skidded on the pavement made wet by a heavy fog, while passing a north-bound car driven by Merle McCann, Arcata. McCann swerved from the highway, hit a bank and was bruised.

A south-bound car driven by John C. Neves, Crescent City, collided with the Olson car, Neves suffering a possible hip fracture and chest contusion. A car driven by Dr. C. Bacigalupi, San Francisco, following the Neves car, collided with both the Neves and Olson cars. Mrs. Ribia Bacigalupi suffered forehead lacerations, the doctor, bruises.

The Olsons and Mrs. Calder were en route from Santa Ana to Canada to visit relatives.

PROTEST ON ALLEY REFERRED TO GROUP

Complaint of Mrs. Mathilde E. De Coursey, 414 South Birch, to city council last night, that an alley near her home is blocked by a building and is a traffic menace, was referred to Street Commissioner Ernest H. Layton and City Engineer J. L. McBride for checking. The alley, she said in a letter, is in the 400-block, between South Birch and South Ross.

The house at 417 South Ross extends three feet into the alleyway and, together with a large shrub, narrows the alley passage to less than five feet, although the right of way is 16 feet. She also complained students travel through the alley in cars at speeds of 40 miles per hour.

Roque Players Get Only Setback

Roque players failed to attain a goal, four additional roque courts for their pleasure, when a forestry board report was submitted to city council last night and filed.

There is no more space at Santiago and Birch parks for the courts, it was pointed out. However, Board Members Halsell and McBride were appointed as a committee to contact the county supervisors to determine whether the county might be able to build the courts in the county portion of Santiago creek park east of Santiago street. Total cost for labor and material for the courts would be $5892, it was reported.

'Dead End' Kid Shot By Cupid

Their money must have been on the greyhound out in front, as this picture of Catherine Marvis, Hollywood dancer, and Leo Gorcey, oldest of the movie "Dead End" kids, was taken at the Culver City dog track. Or maybe it's love, since it is reported that Miss Marvis is engaged to marry Gorcey. She is from Atlanta.

PLEA OF FIREMEN FOR TIME OFF REJECTED BY COUNCIL

Application of Santa Ana members of the Association of Fire Fighters for permission to have four regular shifts off per month besides their regular 15-day vacation was rejected by city council last night because of budget limitations, according to council's final decision.

While it was pointed out by its text and, in some instances, City Atty. Lew Blodgett who recently conferred with California League of Municipalities officials that a state law does provide for the "four shifts off per month" plan, the statute is ambiguous in not if wages of firemen must thereby be reduced to permit the hiring of substitutes. It also provides that granting of the time off must not jeopardize fire protection for the city.

Furthermore, the statute considers a "shift" 24 hours, Fire Commissioner William Penn stated, but the local men work on a 12-hour shift basis and asked for four 12-hour shifts off per month, not four 24-hour shifts as provided by statute.

"We would need at least five or six extra men if we put this statute into effect here this year," Councilman Plummer Bruns said, "and our budget makes no arrangement for their employment." He mentioned the flood-damaged outfall sewer as one reason for the "tight" budget this year.

Ramm-McVey Wedding
Rehearsal Follows
Dinner Party

Saturday night's rehearsal for the marriage next Saturday, October 1 of Miss Adella McVey and Robert Ramm was preceded by a dinner party for which members of the bridegroom group assembled at the Rossmore.

The table was literally ablaze with flowers, and lovely pastel tints were repeated in the place markers, candy flowers in tiny pots. The bride-elect's sister, Mrs. Clinton McKinnon of North Hollywood had made the clever favors.

In the group with Miss McVey and Mr. Ramm were Mrs. Clinton McKinnon, who will be matron of honor; Mrs. Howard Croghan of Upland, Miss Clella Brubaker of Glendora and the Misses Phyllis Heffe and Carline Swain of Santa Ana, who will be attendants; Herbert Ramm, Anaheim, best man; William Kennedy of Anaheim, Roland Drinkwater, Clarence Borchard and Walter Bandick of Orange, ushers; Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ramm, Anaheim; Mr. and Mrs. D. B. McVey and the Rev. and Mrs. Harry Evan Owens.

Miss McVey took this opportunity to present gifts to her matron of honor and bridesmaids. Mr. Ramm had remembered his attendants with gifts at an earlier occasion.

Club is Reorganized
At Recent Meeting

Plans for the new year were made at the reorganization meeting of the Knit-Wits club Friday evening at the home of Mrs. William Hourigan, 519 North Van Ness avenue. Officers elected were Mrs. William Hourigan, chairman; Mrs. Henry Hourigan, secretary; Mrs. Mary Robertson Walther, publicity and keeper of the scrap book.

Highlights of their work among the people of the community were given by Mrs. Oakley and Mrs. Cora Pickenpach, school nurse and member of the welfare department of Placentia. Time was also spent in a discussion of the latest knitting fashions. A number of articles completed by guests during the summer were displayed. Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of a period of games.

Mrs. George Fellows will be hostess for the October 4 meeting at her home in the Johnson apartments at Balboa. The meeting date for the club was changed from Monday evenings to every other Tuesday.

Members present were Mrs. George Fellows, Mrs. Coy Watts, Mrs. Harry E. Hourigan, Mrs. Mary Robertson Walther, Miss Wini Hourigan, Mrs. Earl Owen and social members Miss Violet Wiedeman, Mrs. Marion Oakley and Mrs. Cora Pickenpach.

Dinner Party Precedes
Session of Bridge

Preceding a session of bridge in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Gill at La Habra Heights Saturday night, members of a club assembled at Hellman's on Whittier boulevard for dinner. Pompano dahlias were used in decorating.

Mr. and Mrs. Gill were hosts at the event, awarding prizes to Mrs. Ralph Terrell and Leonard White, who scored high in bridge; Mrs. White and Mr. Terrell, low. Mrs. Terrell received traveling award.

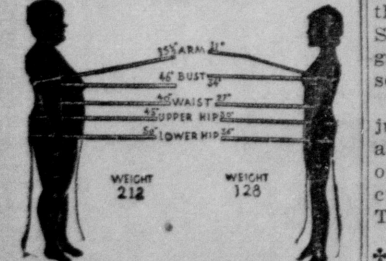

Present were Messrs. and Mesdames Earl Lepper, Leland Ewbank and Ralph Mitchell, this city; the Leonard Whites, Cypress; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Terrell, Long Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Gill.

MISS VELMA RUIH McKinnzie, 30 Orange avenue, and Otto Hucksstead, 311 Cypress avenue, were married Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Broadway Wedding chapel.

The Rev. W. S. McDougall read the rites, for which a little group of relatives and friends assembled. Miss McKinnzie wore a blue tulle, off suit and a corsage bouquet of white blossoms.

Gifted Brazilian Violinist
Win Plaudits Of Audience

Every anticipation entertained by Ebell society members regarding the appearance in this city of Pery Machado, the "Jascha Heifetz of South America," was realized in overflowing measure yesterday afternoon in Ebell auditorium. For the program presented by this master of the violin, proved to be one of the greatest pleasures ever afforded Santa Anans. And while tribute from a small city such as this, may mean little to one who has reaped plaudits in the art centers of Europe, none could come more definitely from the heart than the praise accorded the artist here.

It proved an auspicious opening to a club year, for the program followed the formal opening of Ebell society affairs, with the president, Mrs. W. S. Thompson, at her post. Only a few matters of routine business were considered, with some of the more important committee reports and a few announcements of events to come.

Mrs. Roy Shafer, chairman of the program committee, had the privilege of introducing the Brazilian violinist to Los Angeles, Señor Pery Machado, whose presentation of the guest artist, his fellow countryman, was accomplished with a few gracious words. He expressed hope that the audience would enjoy the interpretation of Brazilian music—a hope that was amply fulfilled.

Pery Machado's platform manner is graceful and dignified. His appearance is commanding, and his playing was as remarkable to watch as to hear. For his bowing technique proved to be flawless, and so effortless that one was impressed by the power that his muscles wield so fluently. Musicians in the audience, familiar with the work of world-famous violin artists, agreed that the title of South America's Heifetz might be extended to include the name of Mischa Elman, for coupled with the technique of a master, was the rich tonal quality of the other.

Numbers Played
The program was one to command interest, and compositions such as Handel's "Largo," "Minuet" of Beethoven and a Bach Aria were those with which the audience was familiar. But there were many others that were intriguingly new and fresh even to musicians present.

There was a Spanish group by the name of Lalo including a Canon and a Jota, that proved unbelievably beautiful, especially the flageolet measures in the Canon. Cui's "Oriental" was substituted for an Ave Maria programmed, and was followed by the "Danza Espanola" of Granados. Kreisler. Heightening the interest in "The Legend of the Peasant" was the fact that it was the artist's own arrangement of the Villa Lobos composition.

Another Lobo number, "Song of the Black Swan," and Sarasate's "Death of the Nightingale," both exquisitely beautiful in their rendition, brought a memorable afternoon to close with the exception of one encore number played after the artist had been recalled again and again.

A measure of appreciation went to the fine work of Will Garraway at the piano, for his extremely sympathetic and musical accompaniments. He remained with the guest artist and Señor Fleury de Barros, for an informal reception in the patio. In their party also were John G. Fletchers, down from San Francisco for the event. Mrs. Fletcher (Ingalls Fletcher, the writer) is a sister of Mrs. Lloyd Chenoweth, and it was through her personal friendship with the artist that he consented to appear before the society.

Miss Lila Minter and her hospitality committee had planned the social interval, and served food and drinks arranged in the shady patio.

Bridge Club Members
Are Entertained

Two tables of bridge were in play on a recent occasion when Mrs. Arnold McKerley received members of her club in her home, 730 South Broadway.

Tallies and flowers for the party were in keeping with the autumn mode. Winning prizes in cards were Mrs. Raymond Hill and Mrs. Clifford Erickson. Other guests present were the hostess and Mesdames Lee Staton Jr., Winfred Russell, Robert Munro, La Verne Guley, all of this city and Edward Ellis, Orange.

Mrs. McKerley served refreshments at the close of the evening.

Junior Y. L. I. Plans
Thursday Night Dance

Junior Y. L. I. members are completing plans for an informal dance to be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Knights of Columbus hall.

Miss Virginia Huelskamp, general chairman and Miss Betty Mae Gelmman, president, are assisted on the committee by Miss Yvonne Sackerson. They are planning a gala affair, which will include the serving of refreshments.

Young people of high school and junior college age are invited to attend the dance, which will be an open event. Tickets may be secured from members, or at the door Thursday night.

BIRTHDAY IS OBSERVED

Vacationing in his duties as El Carrillo hotel manager in Santa Barbara, Harold J. Smith is here for a visit in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Smith, 1101 West Washington avenue.

Sunday brought a family gathering in the home where the birthday anniversary of R. R. Smith was happily celebrated. Mrs. Smith had prepared a delicious dinner menu, and guests included Stewart S. Smiths of Brea with their young daughter and son, Barbara Jean and Herbert, and the R. Carson Smiths of this city with their three little children, Peggy, Bobby and Grace Ellen, the baby of the family. Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Smith and Harold J. Smith completed the family group.

Banning Wedding News
Interests Residents
Of Santa Ana

Announcement made today of the marriage Saturday, September 17 of former Santa Anans, Miss Marcelle Dinkle and Harold W. Barkow, followed a short visit in this city of the newly-married pair, now residing in Palm Springs.

Nuptials took place at 8:30 o'clock in the morning in the garden at Hotel Banning in Banning, with 135 friends and relatives in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Clyde were among Santa Ana guests.

The former Miss Dinkle resided here for a year, during which time she was assistant in the offices of Dr. Willis P. Baker. She moved to Banning in February of this year to take a similar position with Dr. Leonard D. Wood, prominent physician of that city.

The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Barkow of Banning left Santa Ana 23 years ago. Mr. Barkow, who was with the Register for five years, is now editor and publisher of the Banning Record and the Desert Sun of Palm Springs. Harold W. Barkow is advertising manager of the latter publication. He and his bride are taking up residence in an attractive new home at Palm Springs.

October Events Draw
Interest
Of Delta Theta Chis

October events of interest to members of Delta Theta Chi sorority were discussed last night at a semi-monthly meeting in the home of Miss Frances Hill, 805 Bush street.

Members are preparing to pass their second degree examinations at the convention to be held in October 22 and 23 at Arrowhead Springs. Miss Alice Whitten, president, appointed the Misses Daisy Carr and Betty Vorce official delegates to the convocation.

Plans were made for a rummage sale to be held October 3 in the Grand Central Market. The Misses Adeline Loptein and Frances Hill will be co-chairmen.

Adding enjoyment to last night's affair was a celebration of the birthdays of Mrs. Emmett Seacord and Miss Vorce. Rosebuds decked individual candle-lit cakes served with other dainties while guests were seated at a table brightened with asters in pink and rose tones.

Present were the Misses Betty Vorce, Norma Jean Kenny, Daisy Carr, Alice Whitten, Adeline Loptein, Irene Ross, Ann Detweiler, Leone Baxter, Dorothy Jesse, Frances Hill and Mesdames T. E. McLeod and Emmett Seacord.

Next meeting will be held October 10 in the home of Miss Vorce.

Co-hostesses Preside
At Layette Shower

Mrs. Harold Owen (Harriet Zimmerman) was honoree at a layette shower recently when Mrs. Marvin Spradling of Pico and Mrs. William Lewis of Santa Ana were hostesses.

Refreshments served at a late hour furthered a pastel motif observed in decorations for the party. Games played brought prizes to Miss Helen Anderson, Mrs. Henry Kellogg and Mrs. Ted Epperly. Staudridge and Ted Epperly, Anaheim; Walter Nauss, Paul Parmelee, A. E. Owen, Fannie Owen and the Misses Helen Anderson, Marian Ahlfeld and Viola Kothe, Orange; Miss Nellie Heard of Los Angeles, with the honoree and the two hostesses.

Surprise Visit Adds
To Enjoyment
Of Quill Pen Affair

Quill Pen club members' enjoyment of their meeting last night in the home of Mrs. J. U. Viau, 325 South Orange street, Orange, was heightened by the surprise of a long-time member, Mrs. R. A. Cushman, whose home has been in Talmadge for the past several years.

Mrs. Viau, president, conducted a short business meeting, at the close of which an interesting program was given. Mrs. Harry M. Smith's contribution was a descriptive bit written "Aboard the Challenger from Omaha to San Francisco." Mrs. Marah Adams read a story suitable for children's magazines and a poem, "Words."

Miss Lella Watson's contribution was a short story "Full Measure of Devotion." Members were given an opportunity to write their own endings for the story, which built up to an unusual climax.

The hostess served ice cream and cake with tea or coffee to the group, who included a guest, Mrs. William Rowlands, who is visiting with Mrs. Marshall Harnois; Mrs. Cushman and Mesdames Catherine Conover, Harry M. Smith, Blanche Brown, Marshall Harnois, S. B. Marshall, Roy Winchester, Marah Adams, Emmett Elliott, William Fritcher, Miss Verna Wells and Miss Lella Watson.

Mrs. Marshall will receive the group in her home, 323 South Garnsey street, October 10.

Party Hostess Adopts
Gay School Theme

The Hugh Osborn home, 1214 Orange avenue, was setting for a merry party stressing the "Back to school" theme, given Friday night by Miss Beulah Osborn, only daughter of the home. Guests were members of her high school girls' Bible class of Calvary church and their teacher, Mrs. John Sutherland.

A geography game and other appropriate contests were played. Plans were made to hold a Halloween party in October. Group singing was accompanied by Miss Betty Sutherland.

Pink and yellow jello, white cake and iced punch were served by Mrs. Sutherland and Miss Osborn to the Misses Betty Corn, Marilyn Kyle, Marjorie Pedersen, Lorraine Lewis, Mary Van Engen, Vivian Zimmerman, Grace and Hazel Bower, Marguerite and Grace Olsen, Rose Stuck, Florence Griset, Louise Grant, Emmy Lou Brooks, Nancy Morris and Jane Conner.

Father and Son Share
Birthday Honors

Birthday anniversaries of John W. Norton and his son, John K. Norton, were celebrated Sunday afternoon at a dinner party given in the senior Mr. and Mrs. Norton's home on East Chestnut street. Pompano dahlias and other flowers were decorations.

The hostess had prepared a delicious turkey dinner, which was served at a long table appointed with appropriate favors. Mrs. Stella Holman provided a decorated cake for John W. Norton, and there was a similar confection for his son. Both birthdays occurred on Saturday.

In the group were Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Ladd, Terminal Island; Mrs. Maude Sedfert, Lemon Heights; Mrs. Stella Holman, Mrs. Lela Farnheim, Mr. and Mrs. John K. Norton and the hosts.

TO SOUTH AMERICA

Mrs. C. P. Boyer, Tustin avenue and Mr. and Mrs. John Mennes East Seventeenth street boarded the S. S. Heijo Maru last week at Wilmington for a trip to South America. Their return home will fall on December 8.

The boat will go down the coast to Mexico, making one stop there, and continuing to Peru, Valpariso and other points. Santiago, Chile and Buenos Aires will be among the South American places to be visited by the local trio.

C. P. Boyer, who left two weeks ago on a fishing and hunting trip in the high Sierras, is expected home today. He made the trip in company with George Munro Jr., 1815 North Flower street, who has gone to Stanford University to continue his studies.

Former Santa Ana Girl
Weds at Home Rites
In Visalia

A wedding occurring in Visalia on Friday night, September 16, will be of much interest in this city, where the bride, Miss Harriet Susan Kornder, was born and attended the grade schools.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kornder, former Santa Anans now living in Visalia, and was married to Donald D. Miller, son of the W. A. Millers of Visalia, at quiet but beautiful rites in the home of her parents.

Only members of the two families circles were invited for the wedding, which took place before an improvised altar of white blossoms and tapers in silver candlesticks. The Rev. J. Vandergriff, pastor of Visalia First M. E. church, conducted the services.

The bride was attractively gowned in an ensemble costume in rust shade, trimmed with brown caracul fur. Her dress accessories repeated the rust tones, and she wore a corsage of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Miss Susan Rutherford of Balboa was maid of honor, and wore a pretty wineberry frock with a flower corsage in wine and yellow hues. Mr. Miller had the assistance of Ralph Godfrey as best man.

The bride's three aunts from this vicinity, Miss Myrtle A. Rutherford and Mrs. Harriet A. Bonnell, 515 East First street, and Mrs. Susan Rutherford of Balboa were among relatives attending the wedding and remaining for the reception. A feature of the latter was the interval when the new Mrs. Miller cut the first slice from the decorated bride's cake served with ices and coffee.

The young people left for an automobile honeymoon in Northern California, but are now back in Visalia, according to their Santa Ana relatives. They are temporarily with the Kornders until their own home is in readiness.

Mr. Miller is with the Southern Counties Gas company. He attended Redlands University after graduation from Visalia High, but returned to Santa Ana to take a business course at Johnston's Secretarial school.

Birthday Party Comes
As Surprise to Celebrant

When Harold McCleary arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Higday, 1205 Cypress avenue, Sunday evening, he found a group of friends assembled for a surprise party in celebration of his birthday.

Mrs. McCleary and the Higdays conspired in giving the party. After a pleasant interval in the outdoor living room of the home, the group went indoors for games. Winning prizes in Chinese checkers were Mrs. Lloyd Wade, Mrs. G. D. Hendrickson and Mrs. H. J. Clayton, who scored high and low among feminine players; H. J. Clayton, Bud Hughes and G. D. Hendrickson, for men.

Birthday cake lighted with candles was served as the main feature of a dessert course late in the evening. There were quantities of flowers to add to the charm of the setting.

Mr. McCleary received gifts from the group, which included Messrs. and Mesdames Everett Cornish, Lloyd Wade, Bud Hughes, Sam Gish, H. J. Clayton, G. D. Hendrickson, Edgar Higday, Miss Dixie Higday, Miss Ruth Wade, James Geimelhart and Mrs. McCleary.

Mothers' Club

Legion Mothers club members spent the time quilting and sewing carpet bags when they met yesterday in Veterans hall. Covered-dish luncheon was served as a feature of the profitable day.

Present were Mesdames Amy Stewart, Cora Adams, Mary Croal, Martha Elliott, Edith Getty, Alma Kellogg, Margaret Hill, Elma McKay, Fannie Rose, Hattie Steves, Emma Rose, Fannie Reeves, Lydia Robinson, Nannie Lester, Mary Van Wyk and Verna Ware.

Mrs. Susan Gish, report of Legion auxiliary department convention held this month at Santa Monica. Members received word that Mrs. Anna Gale, oldest member of the local club, is ill in San Francisco.

Special meeting for quilting will be held October 10 in the hall. Covered-dish luncheon will be served at noon.

You And Your Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farrar, who returned from a honeymoon trip through the 14th and north-west just in time for the opening of school, are located at El Patio Real, 1223 North Broadway. Mr. Farrar is vice principal at the high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritte Powell and daughter, Mrs. Olive West of Lincoln, Kans. have left for their home after a Southland visit including a few days' stay in the home of Mrs. Roxie Lee Vaughn and Miss Gertrude Lee, 1310 Spurgeon street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mahlstedt and Mr. and Mrs. David Goodrich, 111 North Broadway and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Webb, 411 West Seventeenth street, were in Eagle Rock Sunday for the marriage of Miss Virginia Benton of that city and John Anson of Santa Barbara.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan, Mrs. Ruth O'Malley and Mrs. Glenn Hendrickson attended V.F.W. second district breakfast Sunday in San Jacinto.

Celebration
With Janet McFadden

Although her 14th birthday anniversary fell on Wednesday, September 21, Miss Janet McFadden enjoyed the observance of the date a few days later, when she was complimented at a gala birthday party late the past week, in the home of her parents, the E. T. McFaddens, 2121 Greenleaf street.

Ninth grade classmates of Miss Janet at Frances Willard Junior High school comprised the guest group, entertained at a happy evening of games. Mrs. McFadden and Miss Barbara McFadden assisted in all details of the evening, arranging tables for the varied contests introduced. Many prizes were awarded to winners in different groups.

The same tables came into service late in the evening when ice cream, birthday cake and other dainties were served. Each table was developed in a different color theme. Places were found by quartets of girls matching their flowers to those of the centerpieces.

An array of pretty gifts was one of the pleasant features for the young birthday hostess, whose guests included with her sister, Barbara, the Misses Janet Coffing, Eloise Revell, Frances Nall, Maxine Hillyard, Margaret Lockett, Betty Platt, Betty Jones, Beth Thordike, Bonnie Lewis, Bernadine Curran, Louise Kenyon, Irys McCoy, Sara Burkett, Peggy Paul, Pauline Keech, Marilyn Bear, Marjorie Boardman, Marilyn Greenwald, Jean Hunter, Adele Lewis, Mary Henderson, Betty Socker and Patricia Collins.

Accordion Band Enjoys
Garden Supper

Bringing to a close a summer series of such informal gayeties as watermelon feasts and beach suppers, was the garden party and steak fry shared last night by members of John Sciarriano's accordion band, at the Horace Snow home, 1513 Spurgeon street.

The young people of the band entered with enthusiasm into plans for the merry evening, preparing for the hamburgers at the garden grill and enjoying them with the varied dishes of the al fresco supper. A period of games followed before the usual band practice was taken up.

In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Horace Snow, Mr. and Mrs. John Sciarriano, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Ranney, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crowell, and the members of the band. Dickie Crowell, Martha Snow, Joan and Clifford Ranney, Rodney Brown, Richard and Horace Snow Jr., Don Nielson, Shirley Hillyard, Sharon Kelley, Mary Sciarriano, Patsy Crowell, Irene Bear, Spencer Elliott Jr., Alice Bradford, Marjorie Bowman, Earl Lentz, Bennie Crowell and Earl Frankard.

FOR BRIEF STAY

Relatives and the countless friends of Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Cushman of Mendocino county, were delighted at the opportunity offered this week to greet Mrs. Cushman, who made one of her unannounced short visits in the Southland, her first for the past two years.

While here she took the opportunity of calling on many friends, and was entertained by her cousins, the E. S. Bakers, 719 Spurgeon street, spending a few days in Laguna Beach, where the Bakers have their summer home.

She departed today for her home in Talmadge, in order to be with her legal case which she has coming up in the Mendocino county courts. Mrs. Cushman has been practicing her profession of law since she and Dr. Cushman left Santa Ana for the north, where the latter is superintendent of the state hospital located in Mendocino county.

McELREE'S RETURN

J. W. McElree, 1706 West Eighth street has resumed his duties as chief engineer at Diamond Ice company after a five weeks' vacation from which he and Mrs. McElree returned at the week end.

They traveled by automobile, going to Santa Lake City, Yellowstone National Park and the Black Hills of South Dakota. In Mrs. McElree's former home city of Cedar Rapids, Ia., the couple were entertained at various affairs. They spent some time in Mr. McElree's former home in Chicago.

In Sterling, Kans., where Mrs. McElree resided at one time, a picnic was given in her honor, with 100 women attending. La Junta and Trinidad, Colo., Albuquerque and Santa Fe, N. M., Grand Canyon and Boulder Dam were points visited en route home.

Miss Evelyn Griset's
November Wedding
Plans Told

Announcement was made today of the engagement and approaching November wedding of Miss Evelyn Griset, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Griset, Edinger Road, and Kenneth Pike of East Woodstock, Conn.

Both young people are at Camp Wyckliffe, Ark., a training school for missionaries learning foreign languages. Miss Griset is a student and Mr. Pike, an instructor in the camp, which is operated by the bride-elect's uncle, Cameron Townsend.

Miss Griset will go to Mexico in October with the Townsends, and the wedding will take place in mid-November in Mexico City, where the young people expect to be located for a time. Mr. Pike plans to study for his doctor's degree at Ann Arbor, Mich. next summer.

The bride-to-be is well known in this city, where she had her early schooling, graduating from Santa Ana High school. She met her future husband three years ago on the mission field in Mexico. Since that time she has continued her studies, and is a graduate of University of California at Los Angeles.

First news of the betrothal was told at the latest meeting of Calvary Women's Missionary society, of which Mrs. Griset is a member. Announcement was made by means of a telegram arriving during the meeting. With the message was a corsage bouquet for Mrs. Griset from Miss Mildred Lukens.

B. AND P. W. CLUB MEMBERS IN FIRST MEETING OF FALL

ORANGE, Sept. 27.—Holding the first formal meeting for the coming year last night, members of the Business and Professional Women's club studied with interest coming programs as outlined in attractive year books distributed at a meeting of the organization at the Orange Woman's clubhouse.

Melba Chandler presided and announced that the club membership includes 38 paid up members with prospects of additional members in the near future.

District Meeting Set
Announcement was made of the Southern district convention to be held October 15 and 16 at the Mission Inn at Riverside. In the future, it was stated, reservations for dinners must be cancelled by club members by the Saturday morning preceding the club meeting, if members find they will be unable to attend. Bernice Vestal is chairman of the year book committee.

Year books are attractively bound with the club emblem on the cover. Chairman of the friendship committee for the year is Leona Freeman who gave a short talk.

Lois Allen and Elden Watson planned the program for the evening. Martha Steele will be in charge at the session to be held October 10 when the program will be centered around National Business Women's week, which is to be observed from October 9 to 15.

Students in Program
Miss Evelyn Myracle, student at the Santa Ana Junior College, gave a program of monologues, closing with a reading of a poem by Edna St. Vincent Milay.

Each club member took part in the vacation talks given, when it was found that the western coast and northwestern part of the United States had been the most popular vacation spots for club members the past year.

You and Your Friends

Mr. and Mrs. George Dunton, 1532 East Fourth street came home Saturday night after a pleasant trip north. They were gone for three weeks, motoring to Yellowstone and Glacier National Parks, on to Banff and Lake Louise, Canada, across to Seattle, Wash., and Vancouver and Victoria, B. C. They made the return trip by way of the coast, enjoying especially the beauty of the Redwoods.

CLUB SECTION OPENS SEASON

ORANGE, Sept. 27.—The first Toastmasters' section of Orange Woman's club held its initial session for the year yesterday afternoon with a program centered around women who had made names for themselves in the world through varied activities. Mrs. C. O. Powell presided and Miss Flo Scarritt was toastmaster.

The year book containing programs for the coming nine months was made by Mrs. C. S. Rowell, Mrs. Donald Smiley and Miss Scarritt. With the general theme of the day, "Women in the American Scene," three speakers told of three unusual women.

Mrs. David G. Wetlin spoke on "Lydia Pinkham, the Great Advertiser," Mrs. Melissa Johnson on "Carrie Nation, the Great Advocate," and a paper, "Emily Post, the Great Advisor," was read by Mrs. Vernon Shippee and was written by Mrs. A. H. Hallech, who was unable to be present.

The topic of the next session is to be "Palestine."

Present were Mesdames E. P. Ehlen, Vernon Shippee, Melissa Johnson, B. D. Stanley, W. F. Kogler, A. D. Burkett, Fred Alden, D. G. Wetlin, C. C. Bonebrake, Mabel Faulkner, G. L. Niles, Ethel Niquette, M. L. Pearson, W. C. Pixley, C. O. Powell, C. F. Rowell, H. O. Russell, E. H. Smith, A. Haven Smith, H. F. Taylor, Miss Emma Williamson and Miss Flo Scarritt.

O. E. S. Officers Guests At Party

ORANGE, Sept. 27.—Miss Helen Gillogly entertained members of the Orange County Conductresses association of Eastern Star chapters at her East Chapman avenue home last night, using many fall flowers in decorating. Honor guest was Mrs. Gertrude Conant, of Wheatland. Mrs. Conant is serving this year as associate grand conductress of California and the evening affair was arranged that conductresses of the county might meet her.

A short business meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. Corinne Bush, of Fullerton. Refreshments were served buffet style from an attractively appointed table centered with an arrangement of rose colored asters, peach gladiolus blooms and larkspur, arranged by the sister of the hostess, Mrs. J. E. Donegan.

Present were Mesdames Leone Koontz, Norwalk; Ethel Standman, Brea; Addie Barry, Huntington Beach; Opal Counts, La Habra; Virie Holmes, Santa Ana; Corinne Bush, Fullerton; Gertrude Conant, Wheatland; J. E. Donegan and Miss Helen Gillogly, Orange.

Girl Reserves In Charm Discussion

ORANGE, Sept. 27.—"Charm" was the subject considered at the supper meeting of Orange Union High school Girl Reserves last night at Epworth hall. Mrs. Paul La Banoff, of Hollywood, spoke to the group of 90 members.

Dorothy Hawkins, newly elected president of the combined clubs, presided at the speaker's table. A large bouquet of dahlias brightened the dining room for the occasion. Miss Clara Spelman, of Newport Beach, assisted by Virginia Claypool, led the group in singing traditional Girl Reserve songs. Dinner was prepared and served by a group of the mothers, including Mrs. H. S. Huff, Mrs. T. H. Elijah, Mrs. Roy Willis and Mrs. Charles Robinson, Y. W. C. A. secretary.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED

LA HABRA, Sept. 27.—Mrs. Harold Stone, of La Habra Heights, entertained with a shower recently for Miss Georgia Jackson, of Whittier. Miss Jackson is to be the bride of Dr. E. N. Cooke, of La Habra, September 30. Fall flowers decorated the home and gifts were appointments for the bathroom. Visiting and viewing the colored motion pictures taken by the hostess on a recent trip to Europe entertained the guests.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cheving, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Carden, of Whittier; Mrs. C. L. Rosenberger, Tom Rosenberger, Miss Margaret Cummings, of Los Angeles, Sam Jackson Jr., of Whittier; Mr. and Mrs. Jackson sr., Dr. Stone and Dr. Cooke.

Women of Moose
Gratified at the start of half a dozen names on the charter, organizers of the new Santa Ana lodge, Women of the Moose, held a meeting last night at Moose hall, to continue plans for the organization.

Ernest Dunn, dictator, and M. F. Myers, secretary of the Moose lodge, addressed the women present, explaining some of the details of the order. Not that the charter is officially opened, it is expected to add sufficient names for the formal instituting of the lodge. The next meeting will be held Monday night at 8 o'clock in Moose hall, 306 1-2 East Fourth street.

Charter members now are Mesdames Ernest Dunn, George E. Miles, Leslie Evans, C. E. Devine, M. F. Myers and Thomas Finney.

Love Is Great

By SOL HESS

Marjorie Wahlberg, Betty Flaherty, Helen Edwards, Rena Steinberger, Jack Burris, Jack Stanley, Kenneth Ainsworth, Leonard Heron, Billie Patterson, Bobbie Turner, Michael Maloney and the host.

Jack's sister, Miss Boula Osborn supervised games played in the backyard. Gifts were presented to the young celebrant.

The serving of white-frosted birthday cake topped with red candles, with ice cream climaxed the afternoon. Red cellophane bags filled with candies appointed the table, which was centered with a bouquet of flowers furthering the red and white idea.

Mixing Bowl

BY ANN MEREDITH

The amusing title of "Piddling Pickles" is given to the recipe here described. Webster defines this word as "pottering." Despite the pottering you'll do if you make these pickles, they are well worth your trouble.

Piddling Pickles
Soak 110 slicing cucumbers in strong brine for one week; skim brine each morning.

At the end of the week, pour off brine and scald the cucumbers in fresh hot water. Cool in water overnight.

Again, drain cucumbers and pour over a solution made of two tablespoons alum dissolved in two gallons of hot or cold water. Let stand in alum solution 48 hours. Drain off alum solution, slice the cucumbers in 3/4 inch chunks, place in jar and pour over this pickling syrup.

2 cups white sugar
2 qts. white vinegar
2 tbsps. whole pickling spices tied in a bag. (Boil syrup for 10 minutes.)

Pour off and re-heat the pickling syrup for two mornings, pouring hot over pickles. On third morning bring pickles and syrup to a hard scald and seal in clean hot jars.

—our tested recipe.
A sweet pickle, in fact any pickle, is improved by thorough chilling before serving. A "strong brine" call for two cups salt to each gallon of water.

Why not do a little pottering with the calory sheet so that you will be able to chide your fat friends when their eyes stray to food they should not have? The sheet is free if you will contribute one of your favorite recipes and a return addressed, stamped envelope.

HITLER TELLS ALL PATIENCE IS GONE

draw a definite border. And I was ready to hand over all methods to a commission consisting of Germans and Czechs. What exactly is the content of this memorandum? It is nothing else than a practical execution of what Mr. Benes already agreed to and that, too, under the greatest international guarantees. There is, however, something that is unacceptable for Mr. Benes. Mr. Benes says this memorandum created a new situation. What does the new situation consist of? Because I demand that now, as an exception, Mr. Benes this time keep his promise. That is the new situation for Mr. Benes.

What hasn't this man promised during his lifetime? He has kept nothing. And now for the first time he should stick to a promise. Mr. Benes says: "Yes, we cannot withdraw from this territory." Then Mr. Benes understood in ceding these regions that a region would be credited to the German Reich as a legal title which will be rapped by the Czechs.

This is past history. I have now demanded that Mr. Benes be forced to stick to the truth. He will have to hand the territory to us on October 1.

Mr. Benes now pins his hopes on the world. Neither he nor his diplomats conceal this.

They declare: It is our hope that Chamberlain will fail, that Daladier will be removed, that revolutions happen everywhere. And our hope is soviet Russia.

He still believes he can escape fulfillment of his duty. And there I can now say one thing: Two men are on the scene against each other. There is Mr. Benes and here am I.

We are two such different persons that when Mr. Benes sneaked through the world during the greatest wrestling of nations, I then fulfilled my duty as an honest soldier.

Today, however, I face this man again as a soldier of my people. I have little to say: I am thankful to Mr. Chamberlain for all his trouble and I assured him that the German people want nothing but peace, but I also declared that I cannot go beyond the limits of our patience.

I further assured him and I repeat here that if this problem is solved, there will be no further territorial problems in Europe for Germany.

And I further assured him that at the moment that Czechoslovakia has solved her other problems, that is, when the Czechs have reconciled themselves with their other minorities, the Czech state no longer interests me and that, if you please, I give him the guaranty: We do not want any Czechs anymore.

But equally I want now to declare before the German people that as regards the Sudeten German problem my patience is now exhausted. I have made an offer to Mr. Benes. It is nothing else than realization of what he himself has already conceded.

He now holds in his hand peace or war.

Either he will now accept this offer and at last give the Germans their freedom, or we will now take this freedom for ourselves.

And there is one thing of which the world may have taken cognizance: Throughout four and one-half years of war and during the long years of my political life nobody has been able to charge me with having been cowardly. I now head the procession of my people as first soldier and behind me—may the world know this—there now marches a people and a different one than that of 1918. Errant mentors of those times succeeded in infiltrating the poison of democratic phrases into our people, but the German people of today is not the German people of 1918.

Such phrases act like wasp's stings on us, but now we are immune.

In this hour the whole German people will be united to me. They will feel as they will feel just as I regard its future and fate as mandator of my actions.

And we will strengthen this common will as we did in the times of our struggles, the time when I went out as a lone unknown soldier to conquer a Reich. Never did I doubt success and final victory. A body of brave men and brave women gathered around me and they went with me.

And so I ask my German people: Fall in behind me—man for man, woman for woman.

In these hours we will take one holy common resolve. It shall be stronger than any pressure, any peril.

And when this will is stronger than pressure and peril, it will break the pressure and peril. We are resolved!

Let Mr. Benes choose!

$34,700 FLOOD SUITS LODGED

Twice denied damage claims by the county supervisors, two West Anaheim ranch couples, the Jerome D. Wallace and the Arthur Hartel, today filed suit in superior court against the county flood control district and the supervisors, for injunctions and damages in connection with overflow of the West Anaheim storm drain basis last March.

Separate Petitions
Separate suits were instituted through Attorneys Kaufman and Anderson, of Anaheim, and Adrian Marks of Santa Ana, asking $22,680 damages on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, and $12,050 on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Hartel, in addition to the injunctions. The Wallaces own 13.33 acres and the Hartels 10 acres, which, they claim, were flooded when levees of the storm basin broke during the March floods.

They ask that the district be required to remove the levees, spreading basin, viaduct and other works, and enjoined from maintaining them further.

LABOR PROMISES TO AID U. S. IN CRISIS

HOUSTON, Texas, Sept. 27.—(UP)—John P. Frey, head of the metal trades department of the American Federation of Labor in convention here, today said that union workers would support the government wholeheartedly if it were attacked as a result of the foreign crisis.

Frey made his statement as the convention's resolutions committee prepared to bring in recommendations that the administration speed up its "second to none" navy building program and isolate thousands of aliens now holding jobs on the strategic important Panama Canal and Panama railroad.

Will Resist Attack
The metal trades convention sets the pace to a large extent for the American Federation of Labor which opens its 52nd annual convention here on Oct. 3. Although Frey declined to predict the stand which the federation would take on the European crisis, he made plain that the 45,000 navy shipyard workers which his unions control want peace but will resist attack.

The crisis in Europe, Frey said, fully justifies the position of the metal trades department that this government must not only build a navy second to none, in relation to foreign powers, but must maintain it at this level. Such a fleet, he said, is invaluable as a "trading point" in future disarmament conferences.

Call Bids For Repair Work

Earlier date for award of the contract.

No Estimates
On Riley's motion, the call for bids was ordered published in the Anaheim Bulletin.

Thompson, in presenting the plans and specifications for approval, gave no estimate of the cost. The county has received $200,000 from the state's flood emergency fund, and the supervisors set up another $300,000 of county money in the budget for the job.

Two calls for bids were issued by the board today. One covers the purchase of materials for the work, the other concerning the actual construction. Bids will be opened on the same date, October 11.

Start Quiz Into Fatal Air Crash

QUANTICO, Va., Sept. 27.—(UP)—U. S. Marine Corps officers began investigation today of a plane crash which resulted in the death of four Marines and the injury of two others.

The accident occurred last night a short distance from the marine air field when a transport plane, piloted by Capt. John W. Wehle, son-in-law of Brig. Gen. Smedley Butler, retired, U. S. M. C., caught fire and plunged into the Potomac river.

Wehle and Corp. Robert L. Johnson, mechanic, of Astoria, N. Y., escaped with slight injuries. The dead were Master Technical Sgt. Benjamin F. Belcher, 45, member of the service for 21 years; Staff Sgt. Lawrence F. Granville, 32, of Biggs, Calif.; Corp. Raymond F. Kennedy, 23, of Manassas, Ga.; and Private Frederick M. Hudson, Jr., 22, of Drexel, Pa.

Woman Injured Freak Accident

RAWLINS, Wyo., Sept. 27.—(UP)—A Los Angeles woman was near death in a Rawlins hospital today after a freak accident in which a fragment of wood was thrown through a bus window and pierced her body.

Mrs. F. G. Jewett, 56, was seriously injured yesterday when a narrow board from a produce truck crashed through the front window of a Union Pacific bus in which she was a passenger, narrowly missing the driver.

Authorities said they believed the board was thrown from the eastbound truck when the truck swerved as it passed the bus. Both vehicles were traveling at a high rate of speed, officials said.

Doctors said the wood cannot be removed from Mrs. Jewett's body immediately without causing her death.

"Katy" Dahlia To Be Feature Of S. A. Show

The newly developed dahlia "Katy," grown by Mrs. O. W. Pafford, Santa Ana, and developed by Mrs. H. C. Kirk, of Tustin, will be featured at the Kiwanis Dahlia Show tomorrow afternoon and evening when the event is staged in the basement of the Masonic Temple from 1:30 p. m. to 9 p. m. It is announced by Dr. Emmett Raitt, vice chairman.

Mrs. J. C. Horton is acting with A. N. Zerman as general chairman and Mrs. J. E. Paul, chairman, and Mrs. John Wehrly and Mrs. Jerry Hall form the committee on arrangements. Others heading committees or serving as members are Mesdames F. P. Nickey, Theo. Winbiger, W. W. Wood, O. N. Robertson, Cood Adams, A. N. Zerman, David B. Carmichael and Douglas Patterson and O. N. Robertson, D. S. Richards, Douglas Patterson, Alton Elston, Marion Youell and W. W. Hoy.

BID FOR $50,000 LOAN APPROVED

Providing funds for the immediate payment of debts for material used on the replacement or repair of Section 1 of the joint outfall sewer district, city council last night borrowed $50,000 from BankAmerica company, Los Angeles, only organization to submit a bid on the loan.

The $50,000 loan to the city was necessary because taxes due the city will not be available until December and funds to be obtained by an increase in the water assessments—an increase officially ordered last night—will not be ready for several months.

Payment Provided
The accepted bid, provides that the city must pay plus accrued interest to date of delivery plus premium of $12. The note is made payable on or before December 31 but not prior to December 24 and bears a rate of 2 per cent per annum computed on basis of 365 days per year. The city also must pay $25 to the company's attorneys so the note's legality may be established.

LOU NOVA IN GOOD SHAPE FOR BARLUND

NEW YORK.—(UP)—Lou Neva, San Francisco heavyweight who will meet Gunnar Barlund of Finland in a 15 round fight at Madison Square Garden Monday night, moved his training quarters from Pampano Lakes, N. J., today.

Nova is in excellent condition, having had three fights in the last month, and feels that gymnasium work will be sufficient to keep him sharp over the next few days.

City Confirms Sale of Property

City council last night adopted a resolution to confirm the sale of 10-foot strip of property along the north side of Santiago creek just west of Main street by the county supervisors to the city. The sale, agreed upon a year ago, provided for the city's payment of $50 to the county. The strip was given to Evan B. Jones, operator of the Santa Ana auto camp, for his use when he moved his camp from the east side of Main street to the west side. The strip was given Jones in connection with a deal by which the city bought Jones' property on the east side of Main to expand Santiago creek park.

Conduct Funeral Of Anaheim Man

ANAHEIM, Sept. 27.—Private services for P. H. Thiel, 69, of 605 South Resh street, who was discovered dead in bed Sunday by police, were conducted this morning at Fairhaven mausoleum, with Backs, Terry and Campbell funeral home of Anaheim in charge.

Police were notified by neighbors, who reported that Mr. Thiel had not been seen for several days. Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Bertha Thiel, reported in Iowa; a son, Homer Thiel of Iowa, a daughter, Mrs. J. H. Mills of Riverside and four daughters residing in the east.

TWO MACHINES RECOVERED

Two automobiles, reported stolen, were back in possession of owners today. Ernest Norman, Route 1, Orange, reported his car stolen from in front of 1105 North Main, at 7 p. m. yesterday. Officers W. E. B. Sherwood and J. B. Stephenson found the vehicle abandoned at Third and Bovergreen at 10:30 p. m. Malcolm Kurtz' car, reported stolen Saturday from the rear of the Finley hotel, was located behind a Safeway store at Costa Mesa. A Santa Ana girl, believed involved in the theft of the Kurtz car, according to allegations, was taken to county hospital for mental observation.

600-YEAR-OLD WALL STURDY

WINDSOR, "ng. (UP)—The foundations of a wall believed to be 600 years old were dislodged by workmen digging a trench to lay pipe to the guardroom of Windsor castle. It is more than five feet thick, the brickwork is in excellent preservation, and it was drilled through with the greatest difficulty.

GIST APPEAL DENIED

Decision of the fourth district court of appeals, denying the appeal of Lawson O. Gist, of Orange, convicted several months ago of kidnapping, robbery and grand theft, was filed today in superior court here, too late to save Gist from facing another felony charge of perjury in which he became involved while awaiting ruling on this appeal.

Probably Absent
Had the appellate court decision arrived a week earlier, officials said, Gist would probably have been taken away to San Quentin before he came into court last week at the trial of Tommy Rice, charged with grand theft, and testified that he had overheard a jail plot to frame Rice in the grand theft case.

That testimony caused Deputy District Attorney Robert Gering to file a perjury charge against Gist yesterday, this testimony having been contradicted by other witnesses. Gist was arraigned on the perjury charge late yesterday before Justice K. E. Morrison, of Santa Ana.

CITY OF SANTA ANA IS SUED FOR $1695

The City of Santa Ana was made defendant today in a suit for $1695 damages, filed in superior court by Susan M. Fritcher on account of injuries she received in a fall last May 18. The complaint, filed through attorneys George E. Bradley and Sherman Walker, states that she was walking along the west side of North Main street at Tenth, Santa Ana, when she stumbled over an irregular crevice in the driveway of an adjacent service station. The fall caused fracture of one arm, turned one ankle and bruised her knees, she alleges.

PLAY SEMI-FINALS FOR PRESIDENT CUP

J. Riley Huber, Douglas May, R. G. Cartwright and "Chuck" Denio are the only ones left in the running for the President's Cup at the Santa Ana Country club. Semi-final rounds will be played this week in this major tournament. Huber meets May, and Cartwright opposes Denio.

In the Women's President Cup division, Mrs. C. H. Chapman meets Mrs. Paul Hall and Mrs. L. H. Robinson goes against Mrs. E. E. Baker.

Pairings and results:
President's Cup, Championship Flight
J. Riley Huber (def. E. Gates) vs. Doug. May (d. Ralph Culp); R. G. Cartwright (d. H. E. Olson) vs. Chuck Denio (d. C. O. Knox).

Women's President Cup
Mrs. C. H. Chapman (d. Mrs. Ludy Schaefer) vs. Mrs. Paul Hall (d. Mrs. H. Baker); Mrs. L. H. Robinson (d. Mrs. D. R. Kerley, 1 up, 19th) vs. Mrs. E. E. Baker (d. Mrs. V. Doty).

Women's Defeated Flight
Mrs. E. H. Guthrie, bye, vs. Mrs. Harry Baker, bye; Mrs. D. R. Kerley vs. Mrs. Hugh Shields; Mrs. C. V. Doty vs. Mrs. Don Andrews.

Seek To Avoid Unions On Jobs

Request of the county council of the V. F. W. to the board of supervisors, that rules and policies be drawn in the awarding of public contracts through federal agencies, to give war veterans the right to have jobs without joining "or paying tribute to unions," was received today.

The supervisors thereupon asked Deputy District Attorney J. E. Walker, to investigate the employment provisions in such cases, with particular reference to reported federal statutes giving veterans preference.

Townsend To Visit Honolulu

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Dr. Francis Townsend, founder and head of the Townsend Old Age Revolving Pension organization, will sail from Los Angeles Wednesday or Thursday for Honolulu to study the Hawaiian gross income tax, the organization's headquarters announced today.

The tax is similar to his transaction tax proposal for financing old age benefits.

"Tax Commissioner William Borthwick of the islands invited Dr. Townsend to review the results of two years operation of the tax," the announcement said. "He reported it has not increased the cost of commodities, as was claimed by economists when Dr. Townsend proposed the system in this country."

Irish Actor Suffers Illness

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Errol Flynn, young Irish film star, suffering from influenza and a streptococcal infection of the throat was removed from his home today to Good Samaritan hospital.

Dr. T. M. Hearn said Flynn's condition was not serious and that he was taken to the hospital only as a precautionary measure.

Flynn was stricken over the week end while filming a living sequence in Warner Brothers' "The Dawn Patrol." The studio said Flynn contracted a cold when he refused to allow the use of a double in the filming of the scene.

DIXIE DUGAN

NEW HANDBILL LAW SOUGHT BY GROUP

A petition signed by B. R. Manter, manager of the Smart and Final company here, J. C. Metzgar, manager of the Orange County Board of Trade, and 126 other persons, asking repeal of the ordinance adopted six months ago to prohibit the free distribution of handbills, was submitted to city council last night. Council referred the petition to the committee of the whole.

The petition, asking enactment of legislation of regulatory nature with "reasonable licensing provision," set forth reasons for the request as follows, in brief:

Assents Ineffectiveness
"The ordinance now in force has been given a fair and impartial trial and has been ineffective... does not eliminate distributions of circulars and handbills as they are now delivered by the United States mail which serves only to increase postal receipts at expense of the large force of distributors who would otherwise receive and expend such money with local business concerns... Free distribution of such advertising matters brings business to Santa Ana which otherwise would go to neighboring cities."

The present ordinance keeps jobs from men and boys who distribute handbills... It is discriminatory in that it enables large stores to use the mails where the small business cannot afford such expense... It discriminates against political candidates who cannot afford to advertise by mail. Local printers lose the job of printing the handbills... Liberty of the press should necessarily embrace pamphlets and leaflets... these have been historic weapons in defense of liberty as our own history attests."

TAKES 3 MOTIONS TO O. K. PURCHASE
The purchase of a four-wheel drive pick-up truck for the flood department was approved by the supervisors today, a bid of $2127 from George Dunton, Santa Ana, being accepted despite that for the fourth successive time, the official call for bids proved irregular.

To avoid long delay by advertising again, the board, with approval of Deputy District Attorney J. E. Walker, decided to go ahead with the purchase anyway. Only one bid was filed.

Three motions by Supervisor Harry Riley were required before the purchase was approved. Riley's first motion was defeated when Supervisor Steele Finley and Supervisor N. E. West both voted "no."

Finley looked much surprised at West's vote. He observed that he would like to change his vote, as he was merely voting "no" because he thought West would vote "yes."

So Finley's motion to rescind the previous action was pressed, and a new motion to purchase the equipment was passed, with only West opposing.

WEST COAST BILL

West Coast Bill Tomorrow Offers Gable, Miss Loy

A sudden switch in program plans brings to a close the program now showing at the West Coast theater with presentations for the last times tonight of "Hold That Co-ed" and "Mysterious Mr. Moto," both $250,000 Movie Quiz contest films.

"Hold That Co-ed," with John Barrymore, George Murphy, Marjorie Weaver, Joan Davis and Jack Haley featured, is a hilarious, neatly contrived, topical tie-up between politics and football. Barrymore is a co-ed chasing, budget-bouncing governor who sponsors a $10,000,000 college football development as a sensational vote-getting device. The entire riotous proceeding are liberally spiced with some bright new songs.

Peter Lorre again is starred as the clever Japanese sleuth in "Mysterious Mr. Moto." In this new thriller he goes to London to aid Scotland Yard in apprehending a band of ruthless international killers.

Tomorrow, under the new program plans, the West Coast will open with "Too Hot to Handle," starring Clark Gable as a daring newsreel cameraman and Myrna Loy as an intrepid aviatrix. The pair will adventure and romance in war-torn China and in the depths of a South American jungle. The second attraction will be "Meet the Girls," first in a new series of pictures featuring the Big Town Girls. The cast includes June Lang, Lynn Bari, Robert Allen and Ruth Donnelly.

Bogus Bond Ring Believed Smashed

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state's attorney's police said today confessions of an engraver and two printers had completed the prosecution's case against George Bugs Morgan, prohibition era gangster, and nine other men accused of having passed $400,000 in counterfeit New York Central railroad bonds and American Express Company travelers' checks.

Gilbert said Berger Hanson, 47, the engraver, Del P. Bruno, 45, and Emil Ahrens, 34, printers, seized Saturday in a "printing shop" in a Loop office building had confessed they had done the actual counterfeiting. Gilbert said the gang had planned to dispose of $1,000,000 in bonds and checks throughout the country but the plot was discovered several months ago when three members began passing the bogus prematurely in Pittsburgh.

OKEHS ASSIGNMENT

OKEHS ASSIGNMENT OF PACT ON BRIDGE

Assignment of the $134,219.60 Santa Ana canyon railroad bridge contract awarded last week to Person and Hollingsworth, was approved by the county supervisors today, when Person and Hollingsworth proposed the assignment of the contract jointly to themselves and another firm, Traverses construction company.

Attorney B. Z. McKinney, special counsel for the flood control district, which awarded the contract, advised the supervisors that the contract itself permitted the assignment, and that it was done merely to associate the Traverses firm with the original contractors.

The contract covers construction of piers and abutments for the bridge, which is part of the highway and railroad relocation program in connection with Prada dam.

The supervisors today authorized the chairman and clerk to sign the contract.

London Markets In Slight Rally

LONDON, Sept. 27.—(UP)—[Unconfirmed rumors that Hitler would extend the time limit for satisfaction of his demands on Czechoslovakia contributed to a rally on the London stock exchange before it closed today.

U. S. Steel, which had sold off, rallied in transatlantic issues. In Paris, the Bank of France raised its discount rate from 2-1/2 to 3 per cent in an effort to curb the outflow of gold.

In Argentina, the government was empowered to fix minimum quotations on grains, while in Liverpool wheat moved higher.

FIRE IS THREATENING

House cleaning operations were responsible for a fire which called out the Orange fire department to the home of L. R. Fink, 405 South Olive street this morning. Discarded articles and trash were being burned when the flames spread to a nearby cypress hedge, threatening a number of buildings.

COUNTY GETS NOTE

County Gets Note Asking How To Get Poker Grant

The county supervisors today were asked for information on how to obtain a license for establishing games of draw poker in Orange county. They referred the question to the district attorney.

Harry M. Zachary, Los Angeles, addressed the query to County Clerk Basil J. Smith, who presented it to the supervisors, who promptly presented it to the district attorney.

Zachary wrote: "I am interested in leasing a piece of property in Santa Ana county, located on Canyon road and in Laguna Beach. I am leasing the property principally to have draw poker games, which they do allow in certain parts of California."

It was pointed out today that draw poker is legal in the state, and the selections in the opening forms are not.

STIRRING MARCH TO OPEN S. A. CONCERT

Fillmore's stirring march, "Trooper's March," opens the concert in Birch Park Thursday at 2:30 p. m. when Dale Porter again conducts the concert band of the Federal Music Project in another of its park series.

Ellenberg's "King Mydas" overture in an interesting band arrangement by M. L. Lake, follows. The "Crickle's Serenade," a light little concert number, and Brahms' ever-fascinating Hungarian Dance No. 5, are the selections in the opening portion of the concert.

Excerpts from the late Victor Herbert's operetta, "Princess Pat," will introduce such popular melodies as the "Neapolitan Love Song," "In a Little World for Two," "For Better, For Worse," and "Love is the Best of All," "Golden Blonde," (Moreau Elegance) and a German patrol march, "Guard Mount," both from the pen of Ellenberg, indicating this concert's versatility in the field of composition, will round out a well balanced program.

DRIVE CAREFULLY —SAVE A LIFE—

LABOR'S WORST ENEMY

Is opportunity being closed to the youth of America? That is the logical question that arises when the fact surrounding many recent labor controversies are investigated.

In an astonishing number of occupations, ranging all the way from semi-skilled to highly-skilled labor, union membership is absolutely essential to obtaining employment in a "free" country. The closed shop rules supreme. Furthermore, the "closed union" has lately put in its appearance. That is, the union that refuses to take more members, on the grounds that it now has all the members for whom work can be found. Thus, the young man looking for a job is confronted by the fact that he cannot get a job unless he joins a union—and that the union will not accept him, even though he can afford the initiation fee, which in some cases is extremely high—$200 for example.

To make matters worse, the "seniority" question has now been brought up, and was a major issue in the San Francisco department store strike. Workers demand unions that are closed to new members; that employers choose from the existing membership, and that the seniority system control promotions. A young worker, therefore, can hardly get work, or if he does, and has exceptional ability, he is held back by an inflexible rule which makes age or tenure of service the main arbiter for advancement.

The state of affairs is reaction, not progress. And, if carried far enough, the honest union and the ambitious working man will find that a so-called labor movement which closes opportunity to the young, and makes the employer impotent in selecting help, will be their own worst enemy.

A MOST DANGEROUS COWARD

Many of those people who perhaps actually believe that they are frank and courageous and are speaking out on important, public, social problems are probably the worst mental cowards in the country. And these are the very people who no doubt have done as much to lower the standard of living and destroy true democracy as any other class.

These men think they are to be admired and congratulated on their courage, as compared with those people who keep their thoughts to themselves or only talk in private and not for publication. But they are not entitled to approbation and to respect. They will express their opinions ONLY at times and in places and in mediums where the opponent of their ideas does not have an equal opportunity to challenge and point out inconsistencies. These people who insist on being protected from being asked questions and challenged as to their inconsistencies by only talking where the opposition does not have an equal chance are the worst kind of moral and intellectual cowards. They are, in fact, our worst enemies.

So, the next time you hear or read of a man airily and boastfully expressing his ideas, consider for a moment whether his opponents have equal opportunity to present the opposite side. If they do not, you can mark it down that this man is a demagogue and moral coward, whether it be done on the platform, in the school, in the church, or in the press. It is time that people began to wake up to the selfishness, the meanness and the arrogance of this kind of men who will not even in private answer questions but always insist on changing the subject or evading it. They are the same caliber as the man who shoots from ambush.

THOUGHTLESS QUESTION—THANKS

We acknowledge with thanks the contribution of two contributors in the Clearing House explaining very clearly the answer to our thoughtless question, as to the tax rate in Santa Ana school district being higher than outside districts, with the inference that we were losing money on out of district (not out of state) students because of this difference in rate.

Correcting any inference or conclusion in The Register not based on logic, is performing a real service and we appreciate it very much. It was truly a thoughtless question, because only under similar circumstances with equal number of students and equal valuation could the different tax rate be any evidence of error in the contention of the Board of Education. The editorial columns and the public forum are solely for the purpose of getting people to think and correcting errors in thought. We wish to beg the pardon of the readers for being so thoughtless in asking a question which we should have thought through ourselves. But thanks to the contributors, it has been clarified.

The Nation's Press

RECESSIONAL (Daily Oklahoman)

One thing that the observer may overlook in the dizzy kaleidoscope of the world events is the dissolution of the British empire, which is relentlessly under way.

All empires are old-fashioned, even though dictators of this day, who are throw-backs to jungle law, may temporarily make them work. Geography, enlightenment, transportation, invention and the much-abused and warped but persistent doctrine of self-determination all conspire against them.

Emperors, in turn, have dreamed, marched, conquered, succeeded, strutted, feasted and fallen. Egypt, Greece, Rome, Spain, France, Germany and other ambitious governments in turn, have been dominant. Britain, with its special genius for colonization, has been one of the longest-lived and most tenacious. It, too, will give way to inexorable change, tragic as this may seem to people of the Anglo-Saxon family.

The symptoms are plain. A disinterested writer in the near east points out that the British government is weak in Palestine, and the Arabs are doing practically as they please, not because of a shortage in physical power but because of the lack of moral strength. Action there, as elsewhere, is hesitant. There is a feeling of defeatism.

India is disaffected. South Africa will not engage in the European embroilment. Canada is cautiously

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

In a recent issue, we quoted the negative effect on character of over-assistance by the government. Inasmuch as we are doing more legislation by far than this country ever thought possible when the Constitution was written and, inasmuch as we now have ten million people out of work, we continue the quotation on this subject.

"If we are asked in what special directions this alleged helplessness, entailed by much State-supervision, shows itself, we reply that it is seen in a retardation of all social growths requiring self-confidence in the people—a timidity that fears all difficulties not before encountered—in a thoughtless contentment with things as they are. Let any one, after duly watching the rapid evolution going on in England, where men have been comparatively little helped by governments—or better still, after contemplating the unparalleled progress of the United States, which is peopled by self-made men, and the recent descendants of self-made men; let such an one, we say, go on to the Continent, and consider the relatively slow advance which things are there making; and the still slower advance they would make but for English enterprise. Let him go to Holland, and see that though the Dutch early showed themselves good mechanics, and have had abundant practice in hydraulics, Amsterdam has been without any due supply of water until now that works are being established by an English company. Let him go to Berlin, and there be told that, to give that city a water supply such as London has had for generations, the project of an English firm is about to be executed by English capital, under English supervision. Let him go to Vienna, and learn that it, in common with other continental cities, is lighted by an English gas company. Let him go on the Rhone, on the Loire, on the Danube, and discover that Englishmen established steam navigation on those rivers. Let him inquire concerning the railways in Italy, Spain, France, Sweden, Denmark, how many of them are English projects, how many have been largely helped by English capital, how many have been executed by English contractors, how many have had English engineers. Let him discover, too, as he will, that where railways have been government-made, as in Russia, the energy, the perseverance, and the practical talent developed in England and the United States have been called in to aid. And then if these illustrations of the progressiveness of a self-dependent race and the torpidity of paternally-governed one, do not suffice him, he may read Mr. Laing's successive volumes of European travel, and there study the contrast in detail. What, now, is the cause of this contrast? In the order of nature, a capacity for self-help must in every case have been brought into existence by the practice of self-help; and, other things equal, a lack of this capacity must in every case have arisen from the lack of demand for it. Do not these two antecedents and their two consequents agree with the facts as presented in England and Europe? Were not the inhabitants of the two, some centuries ago, much upon a par in point of enterprise? Were not the English even behind in their manufactures, in their colonization, in their commerce? Has not the immense relative change the English have undergone in this respect, been coincident with the great relative self-dependence they have been since habituated to? And has not the one been caused by the other? Whoever doubts it, is asked to assign a more probable cause. Whoever admits it, must admit that the enervation of a people by perpetual State-aids is not a trifling consideration, but the most weighty consideration. A general arrest of national growth he will see to be an evil greater than any special benefits can compensate for. And, indeed, when, after contemplating this great fact, the overspreading of the Earth by the English, he remarks the absence of any parallel achievement by a continental race—when he reflects how this difference must depend chiefly on difference of character, and how such difference of character has been mainly produced by difference of discipline; he will perceive that the policy pursued in this matter may have a large share in determining a nation's ultimate fate."

Would that every citizen in the United States had an opportunity to read this very concrete illustration of the effects of state interference with private enterprise. It certainly is an object lesson. This description seems almost as if it had been written for what the United States has been doing the last few decades and especially the last few years.

Of all the evil spirits abroad at this hour in the world, insincerity is the most dangerous—Froude.

alof. Ireland broke away years ago. With all its tremendous top-heavy sea power, Britain finds herself curiously impotent, for its theater of activity is too far-flung.

Kipling, prophet and prophet of British imperialism, is dead, but his words live on:

Far-called, our navies melt away
On dune and headland sinks the fire,
Lo, all our pomp of yesterday
Is one with Nineveh and Tyre.

The reason for the meek, irresolute attitude of British diplomacy may be found in the ironical fact that British government is too democratic and liberal to withstand the shock of a cynical, determined totalitarian attack. Little England, only five days from starvation without a free merchant marine, is the soul, but the only part of the empire that could be counted upon to fight desperately for the empire and its prestige, and even England hesitates to go to war except for the actual defense of the island. It remembers too keenly the air raids of 20 years ago, and the terrific loss in men and treasure. It is under the guns.

At a time of acute world crisis, a strong government must be firm, united, even defiant. Britain has been anything but that during the past fateful week. The tragic truth is that only Hitler and Mussolini could declare, definitely, and with assurance of complete backing of their constituencies, what they desire and intend to do and get.

We may condemn this weakness or we may sympathize and deeply deplore, for a part of Britain's misfortune is America's misfortune. But the truth cannot be ignored. As Viscount Grey said more than 20 years ago, "lights have gone out." Many have not been relighted, even for America.

Fellow Citizens:

We have not paid much attention to Einstein's theory of relativity, but many of our social problems could be solved by discovering their relative values.

The universe is governed by a trine principle, or trinity of existence. First, the principle of law; second, the principle of evolution; third, the principle of relativity, or the right relationship between law and evolution. To apply this to economics is simple. There is a principle of natural law by which man is assured of food, shelter, and clothing. In the process of evolution man became dissatisfied with the crudeness of nature's gifts. Man desired a better standard of living conditions than nature in the raw provided. He began to experiment until he discovered the principle of right relationships, and upon them he developed civilization.

The trouble with our present outlook, is the attempt to standardize, to confine to the principle of law. The slogan of minimum wages, maximum hours, unions, associations, etc., all have one end in view, namely, the attempt to standardize, to govern by the one principle of law. This is doomed to failure, however, because it overlooks the principle of evolution, the adventurous spirit, the dissatisfaction with the status quo, the longing to look around the corner, the desire to compete.

Primitive man was purely an instinctive creature, governed by natural law which kept the species alive. But when man attained the state of self-consciousness he became the maker of his own destiny. He was no longer controlled by instinctive law. He used his own intelligence. For the reason the human race cannot be standardized again. There are too many "damned souls" who are always kicking over the traces, looking for something better, blazing the trail for higher standards of living.

The present objective of the labor movement is to standardize, but according to the principle of evolution, it cannot be done. Man is evolving too fast to warrant too many restrictions. He longs for competition and adventure. Strikes have an extremely low relative value. The desired goals could be attained by less expensive ways. The increase of wages is seldom realized until two or more years after a long lay-off. The reason for this, is simply, the application of the principle of relativity. It can be explained mathematically. But the strike organizer is not usually a good statistician. He wins his point by threats of violence, fines, and the ambiguity of "or else."

But all labor problems could be solved logically, by a careful study of the principles of relativity.

This lack of proper approach is fundamentally one of mis-education. We are not to blame for many of our mistakes. We are confused by our mis-beliefs. All problems are fundamentally ethical, having religious values. Even the present revolt against religion, with the resultant moral slump, is simply the normal expression of the principle of evolution. Religion adheres to the principle of law—the law of God, the Bible as the finality of truth. Evolution reflects such a standard, and seeks a new one. It desires to discover the irreducible minimum of truth necessary for enjoyment and progression. The solution is one of relative values. Ancient creeds are today unintelligent. The finality of infinite wisdom can never be confined within the covers of a sacred book. The human mind demands new forms of expression, and dares to take the adventure.

It is apparent that the fear of God is not the beginning of wisdom. Fear breeds ignorance, superstition, and moral degradation. Hence, we must seek to rationalize religion, to rethink our philosophy of life. We must discover the principle of relativity in religion, the basis of right relationships.

To standardize is an attempt to frustrate the process of evolution. To go to war and fight is suicidal. This world is fool proof, governed by a trine principle of law, evolution, and relativity. The sooner we work in harmony with this principle, the sooner we will find our way out of the present chaos. In essence, it centers around the problem of relativity.

EDWIN O. COLBECK.

Fellow Citizens—in the last 50 years we have discovered many new sciences and perfected many new machines. The wheels of industry have been perfected to where they revolve with a minimum of friction, with the exception of these three, production, distribution and consumption. These wheels are so closely connected they constitute one big machine where neither can operate independent of the other. It is too bad that distribution is centered directly between the other two as all of production must pass through distribution in order to reach consumption, that part of the machine located on the outer end.

We have no fault to find with either production or consumption but it seems no matter how large the amount of products passed on by production only a certain amount can be handled by distribution while consumption, that part on the outer end, is always eager to consume all of the products passed on by the other two. Mr. Roosevelt has been experimenting with this machine hoping that by cutting down production it would lighten the load on distribution and by so doing get rid of a surplus which distribution has been unable to handle but he found that this failed to relieve consumption out there on the other end.

It seems there are a number of gadgets attached to distribution. One of these is called profits. Its job is to extract a fine grade of oil from the different products as they pass through, this oil to be used in lubricating the different parts of the machine in order to keep it running smoothly.

Mr. Roosevelt got the idea that the gadget profits was extracting too much of the fine oil from products so he placed some more gadgets on distribution called taxes. They were to absorb some of the oil extracted by profits, this oil to be used on other machines that were not connected in any way with distribution. But he soon discovered that this wouldn't work as it took from distribution the oil necessary to keep its own machinery lubricated and made matters worse by slowing down the part of the machine that was already sluggish.

Mr. Roosevelt then got the idea that by building a bypass direct from production to consumption he could eliminate distribution entirely but he had forgotten that profits, the gadget that extracts the oil for lubricating the machine, was attached to distribution and without this oil the other two parts would soon run dry. Let us hope that he will eventually be able to adjust this machine so that it will operate without friction, where there can be no limit to production and distribution will be able to carry any load placed upon it. Then the consuming part will take care of itself.

"Time after time," said the big game hunter, "the lion sprang at me, and time after time as he leapt forward I threw myself forward and he went harmlessly over my head. Eventually the animal gave up the attempt to fell me and trotted off into the jungle. The following day I came to a cliff overlooking the sea, and there on the beach I saw that same lion. I stood transfixed at its antics. "Good heavens!" put in one of the breathless listeners. "What was he doing?"

"What was he doing?" said the hunter dramatically. "Perhaps you won't believe me, but it was a fact. That lion was practicing short jumps!"

"Once again my orders have been disobeyed," said the teacher sternly. "Who did it?" There was silence. "This matter must be settled once and for all," he went on in the same icy manner, "and if none will tell every body in the class will be punished."

Suddenly as the last boy was about to receive his punishment, the cane was withheld.

Fixing a keen look on the lad, the master said: "Now, if you will tell me who did this action, I will not punish you."

"All right, sir, I did it," came the hesitating reply.—Boston Globe.

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON

World Copyright 1933 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—A national organization for Henry Wallace, "the farmer's friend," for 1940, is getting started under cover.

A group of outstanding business men, centering in and around Illinois (not including Chicago) is interested. One Illinois business leader is particularly active. Use of names cannot be permitted yet. They are not ready to start shooting. But it will not be long.

Movement has progressed so far that Democratic National Chairman Farley has been approached confidentially to suggest a Wallace campaign manager, or to take the job himself (a delicate commitment). As General Jim is about ready to step forward himself if Mr. Roosevelt will only get off his foot, he probably figured the Wallace people were telling him rather than asking him. At any rate, his answer is as yet undecided.

Not only from this but from other signs, it is evident the Wallace workers carry the penny-weight and prestige to make an important effort—if they go through.

Why business men would like the agriculture secretary, who has had a rather expensive and expensive view of the farm problem, may not be apparent off-hand. However, men of commerce who have had dealing with him have found him conscientious, honest and fair. They know he knows the farm problem, and if man O'Mahoney appointed Elcher and Isadore Lubin, head of the bureau of labor statistics, as a sub-committee to study the farm problem.

O'Mahoney's choice hints what is going to come out of that. The price fixers have contended the farmer should have a just wage for his labor like industrial workers. Their old McAdoo-Elcher bill would give it to him, but directing the secretary of agriculture to allow each farmer a manager's salary in computing the cost of production, upon which basis minimum prices would be fixed.

As Lubin is the man who worked out the wage-hour bill, it appears the new McAdoo-Elcher bill is going to be promoted as a "wage-hour bill" for the farmer.

Expectation is that he will slide closer toward federal price maintenance.

Wallace's friends seem to be crossing the path of Roosevelt's in these 1940 meanderings.

Price-fixing advocates claim the President is for their idea. Leading promoter of the scheme is Dep. Elcher who carried the Roosevelt banner unsuccessfully in the Iowa primary. Elcher took 38 farm congressmen down to the White House one day last session and all 39 came away with the impression that Roosevelt was willing. Since then Elcher has been carrying the Corcoran torch on the anti-monopoly committee.

Monetary Facts to Remember

By WALTER E. SPAHR

Professor of Economics, New York University

The Federal Reserve Bulletin for September made the following statement which ought to have great significance to the people of this country:

"At the present time the volume of demand deposits, as well as total deposits including time deposits, is near the all-time peak reached at the end of 1932, while the turnover of the deposits is at the lowest rate on record."

This Bulletin also went on to say: "Although reserves and deposits of banks have increased, total loans and investments declined until July. . . . Bank loans to commerce and industry continued to decline as the result of reduced business activity and curtailment of inventories. In recent weeks there have been small increases in loans and investments of member banks in leading cities."

This decline in commercial loans in banks in 1931 leading to the depression is a very large number of people in and out of government circles have thought that if our currency could be expanded business would expand and that we would soon experience a return to general prosperity. The extent of this belief is revealed by the great number of currency-expansion pressure groups with which this country has been afflicted since March, 1933. It seems quite clear that when the next Congress convenes such groups will renew or intensify their drives for a greater expansion of the currency. Facts apparently mean nothing to these groups which are led by political demagogues who provide the American people with one of their most trying and aggravating burdens.

Some facts that should be made clear are these: Prosperity is not caused by the supply of money and bank deposits available for use. It is caused by the demand for goods and services, under sound economic conditions, that draw more money and deposits into use. Furthermore, it is useless to con-

He has friends who will tell you in all seriousness that he will be the next secretary of agriculture if anything, including recalcitrance, on price-fixing, happens to Mr. Wallace.

But a more significant and important physical encounter between Wallace and Roosevelt subsurface tollers has been indicated in Iowa. Wallace workers will tell you the Iowa delegation will surely be for him because Democratic officeholders of the state have been lined up, but Roosevelt friends claim they have the state committee organization all set for a Roosevelt organization.

This last light political chatter, but it will give you an authentic hint of developing tendencies.

Other reports indicate Roosevelt's friends are having difficulty lining up convention delegations in other states. Charles West and others who have been on the road working for weeks along this line have found favorite son opposition nearly every place they go.

Anti-monopoly investigators (national economic committee) are sliding off quietly into the farm problem too.

This committee is allergic to publicity, few announcements have been made about any of its recent ventures. No exception was made a few days back when Chairman O'Mahoney appointed Elcher and Isadore Lubin, head of the bureau of labor statistics, as a sub-committee to study the farm problem.

O'Mahoney's choice hints what is going to come out of that. The price fixers have contended the farmer should have a just wage for his labor like industrial workers. Their old McAdoo-Elcher bill would give it to him, but directing the secretary of agriculture to allow each farmer a manager's salary in computing the cost of production, upon which basis minimum prices would be fixed.

As Lubin is the man who worked out the wage-hour bill, it appears the new McAdoo-Elcher bill is going to be promoted as a "wage-hour bill" for the farmer.

Here and There

It has been the theory of some scientists that the earth's continents were much nearer to each other in past ages than they are now. South America, Antarctica, Australia, and India can be fitted around Africa like pieces of a jigsaw puzzle. According to the men holding to this theory, the continents actually floated away.

Greenland has only two newspapers. These are circulated at government expense as necessary to keep the people informed.

A Munich doctor who collects transport tickets now has a collection of more than 40,000 from a hundred different countries.
